Franco Tightens Strongarm Rule

MADRID (AP) — Plagued by bombings and crippling strikes, Generalissimo Francisco Franco's regime today suspended for two years the Spanish people's constitutional right to choose where they want to live in Spain.

Controls Movements

Under the sweeping edict, the government can control the movement of anyone opposed to Franco and keep agitators out of industrial centers hit by a seven-week siege of strikes that paralyzed mines and key factories.

The strike—illegal in Spain—dropped off sharply late last month after the government promised some workers pay boosts of up to 50 per cent.

Franco's cabinet approved the decree suspending a key clause in Spain's bill of rights a few hours after the second bomb incident in three days rocked the Banco Popular, a big financial institution in the heart of Madrid.

Police blamed the left-wing Popular Liberation Front for the bombings which shattered windows in the bank and caused other damage. They were linked to recent strikes.

The cabinet pointed up the decree with an announcement which said:

Blames Reds, Priests

"The campaigns which from outside are being made to harm Spain's credit and prestige have found echo and complicity in some persons who, using the Liberties which the (bill of rights) recognizes, have joined such unworthy maneuvers."

Franco has charged that Soviet subversion and "hot-headed, separatist" Catholic priests played a major role in the strikes which idled more than 60,000 workers in the provinces of Asturias, Leon, Bilbao, Barcelona and Madrid itself.

Some priests have supported the North Basque region's demands for independence. Others have openly backed the strikes for higher wages.

Franco said, however, the attitude of some priests did not alter the fundamental harmony between the church and state. Roman Catholicism is the state religion in Spain.

3 Orange Men Held For Drugs

Indicted With 2 Others Thursday

NEWBURGH, N.Y. (AP) — Three of five men indicted by an Orange County grand jury on narcotics charges have been arrested here by State Police.

The indictments stemmed from narcotics raids in Middletown and Newburgh last April 21 when State Police said a sizeable quantity of heroin and marijuana was seized and seven men were arrested.

Outgrowth of Probe

Capt. John J. Lawson, commander of State Police Troop K, said investigation following the April raids showed that narcotics were still reaching Newburgh from New York City. The arrests were an outgrowth of that investigation, he said.

Taken into custody Friday and held in the Orange County jail here were Charles Ware, 22; Nathaniel Wright, 28, and Joseph Fina, 23, all of Newburgh.

They were secretly indicted by the county grand jury Thursday, along with two others still being sought, on charges of sale and possession of narcotics.

The men were scheduled to be arraigned Monday in county court.

Hit Policy Ring

In another raid Friday, State Police said they arrested two women and seized policy slips and money estimated at more than $2,000.

Dist. Atty. Abraham Isseks said State Troopers learned about the Newburgh policy operation while doing undercover work in the narcotics probe.

Arrested here and charged with sale and possession of policy slips were Miss Louise Wilkins, 59, and Miss Alexzemia Wood, 35, both of Newburgh.

$426,838 Low Bids Filed by Peckham For County Jobs

A White Plains firm, Peckham Road Company submitted low bids totalling $426,838.50 for two highway projects in Ulster County. Bids were opened at the Department of Public Works, Albany Thursday.

One bid was for $181,750.50 to cover cost of resurfacing 4.21 miles of Route 214 in two sections near the Greene County Line. Two bids were received.

The existing 20-foot-wide pavement will be resurfaced with asphalt concerte from the Ulster County line northeasterly 3.94 miles to the Hamlet of Edgewood, and in an 0.27-mile section from Route 23A southerly.

Work is expected to begin shortly after a contract is officially executed. The contract will be awarded — following a routine check by state engineers of all bids received — to the contractor who is found to have submitted the lowest valid bid. There usually is a lapse of about one month between receipt of bids and contract award.

Scheduled for completion by September 15, all work will be under the supervision of Frank J. Fuller, district engineer in charge of the department's district office at Albany.

Another bid was for $245,262 to cover resurfacing of 7.45 miles of Route 42 between Ulster County line and Route 23A at Lexington. Two bids were received.

The existing 18 to 27-foot-wide pavement will be resurfaced with asphalt concrete. The project does not include an 0.82-mile section just north of West Kill which was reconstructed several years ago.

Work is expected to begin shortly after a contract is officially executed.

Scheduled for completion by October 15, work will be under the supervision of Fuller.

2,781 Are Given X-rays, 8,411 Is Total for Week

The first week of the free chest X-ray survey in Ulster County ended Friday with a total of 8,411 persons having presented themselves for X-rays.

Friday was one of the biggest days thus far when 1,316 were X-rayed at New Paltz and 1,465 at Saugerties for a day total of 2,781.

In New Paltz, co-chairmen for the survey were Mayor Henry DuBois and Supervisor Peter J. Savago. Phillip J. Carter of the New Paltz Jaycees worked with the chairmen in planning for the door-to-door canvass for the survey.

In Gardiner, Supervisor George Majestic was chairman of the canvass. In nearby Plattekill, Supervisor Joseph Martorana organized the canvass and volunteers signed up over 800 residents, part of whom indicated their plan to be X-rayed in New Paltz.

Mrs. Willard Waddell and Mrs. Clifford VanValkenberg of the New Paltz Public Health Committee were co-chairmen of registrars and hostesses. Sixteen volunteers were recruited for this service.

In Saugerties the canvass of the area was planned by a committee of Jaycee members under the chairmanship of Robert L. Mann.

Mrs. Theodore Eckhoff of the Saugerties Public Health Committee was chairman of registrars. Twenty volunteers responded for these services. Six members of the Saugerties Jayces assisted in handling the crowd.

The extra unit was made possible by the TB and Health Association from Christmas Seals funds. The films taken, however, will be interpreted, as will the others, by the State Department of Health Physicians, through arrangement made early Friday by the Health Commissioner Dr. E. Frankline Hall.

Following is next week's schedule:

JFK Technique Is Evident In Victory

SPRINGFIELD, Mass. (AP)—Those ambitious, never-give-up Kennedys have done it again.

Edward M. (Ted) Kennedy, eager 30-year-old brother of the President and of the attorney general, was endorsed by weary, hoarse Massachusetts Democrats Friday night as a candidate for the U.S. Senate.

Piles Up Early Lead

In the big battle of famous political names, Kennedy piled up such a margin over Edward J. McCormack, 38, that McCormack gave up before the balloting was two-thirds completed.

With the score card showing Kennedy 691 to McCormack's 360, the voting was stopped.

McCormack came to the microphones, listened gratefully to to the cheers of his supporters, and said:

"I want to thank all of those who had the courage to stand up and be counted in my behalf...I will now take my case to the people."

This means that even though McCormack lost here he will fight Kennedy again in the September primaries, a right he has under Massachusetts law.

Scarcely had McCormack left the platform than here came Kennedy, accompanied by his blonde wife, Joan, to get an even more rousing reception.

Sure Voters Will Do Same

Kennedy said he was sure the people of Massachusetts will speak just as the convention delegates did.

"As of tonight," Kennedy said, "we're starting the campaign."

McCormack is the nephew of House Speaker John McCormack, and waiting restlessly in the political wings is a young representative of yet a third famous family.

George Lodge, 34, son of the former United Nations ambassador, Henry Cabot Lodge, faces Rep. Laurence Curtis in the Republican convention a week from today.

First Place On Ballot

Even though Friday night's victory didn't prove much—it gives Teddy first place on the ballot, plus a note that the convention endorsed him—the Kennedys go into everything from touch football to conventions aiming to win.

And young Teddy won here with a technique his brother developed in Massachusetts and perfected in New Hampshire, Wisconsin and West Virginia; bright young men in slick automobiles, pretty girls in crisp dresses, and unremitting industry behind scenes to make sure each delegate is reached again and again.

It's worked wonders for John F. Kennedy, and so far it's working for Teddy.

Is Elected V-P Of Siller Beef, Was Sales Head

AUGUST L. WIEDEMANN

Announcement was made today of the recent election of August L. Wiedemann of 28 Dietz Court as vice president of Siller Beef Co.

The promotion was made known by Louis M. Siller, president of the organization.

Wiedemann has been associated with the meat industry for the past 30 years and joined the Siller Beef Company on Oct. 17, 1960, as sales manager.

A graduate of Immanuel Lutheran School and Kingston High School, he has studied various courses through International Correspondence School, and recently received a Certificate of Accomplishment from Dun & Bradstreet, New York City for successfully completing a course in Credit and Financial Analysis.

Married to the former Pearl Saehloff, the Wiedemanns have two children, Augie and Nancy.

Predict GOP Factions Will Unite for Nixon Campaign

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Richard M. Nixon's strategists say California's so-called right-wing movement has not increased substantially in numbers in the past decade.

But it has gained in zeal and organization, they said Friday in analyzing the former vice president's 2 to 1 victory over Assemblyman Joseph C. Shell in the state's Republican gubernatorial primary.

Nixon aides said the hotly contested primary campaign should leave no permanent scars. And they predicted GOP factions will unite behind Nixon in an effort to oust the Democratic incumbent, Gov. Edmund G. Brown, in November.

The Nixon aides added that regardless of differences among party factions over the John Birch Society, they believe conservatives who supported Shell will rally behind Nixon.

Shell did not endorse or oppose the society during the primary campaign. But he did decry Nixon's efforts to read Birchers out of the party.

Nixon has said he wants to meet with Republican Reps. John H. Rousselot and Edgar W. Hiestand, both Birch Society members, in an attempt to get them to withdraw from the organization.

Nixon said that although the two congressmen have had good records, he believes membership in the society is inconsistent with Republican party leadership.

The Nixon camp said a solution to the differing opinions will be worked out by August, when the Republicans hold their platform meeting in Sacramento.

Estes' Money Tied To Democrat Party

Saugerties Pro-School Unit Forms

A new Saugerties Central School parents' group advocating passage of the $1,200,000 school bond issue to be voted on June 21 was organized this week.

A statement issued today by Virgil Detweiler of Fish Creek, a spokesman for the group, indicated that more than 20 committee members are canvassing the eligible voters of the school district for signatures to a petition seeking passage of the bond issue and soliciting funds to pay for full-page advertisements in all newspapers circulated in Saugerties.

Stress Urgent Need

The advertisements will stress the need for additional school rooms now and will list the names of the contributors, Detweiler said.

The group will be known as Parents Who Care.

The statement said the only motive of the group is to provide adequate education for all children in Saugerties Central School District.

The proposition on the ballot if approved would provide for a new 14-room elementary school on a site in Katsbaan, and a nucleus junior high school building on the present junior-senior high school site on Washington Avenue Extension.

Defeated by 45 Votes

The proposal when originally submitted to the voters on May 9 was defeated 1,220 to 1,275, a margin of 45 votes.

The statement said, the proposition as resubmitted is a reasonable and proper solution to the problem of classroom shortage. Fully realizing it is not the final solution, the committee said it recognized the fact that 400 children are now on split sessions and that further delay will cause the number to swell to over 1,000.

The statement declared that action must be taken now and urged all eligible school district

Anti-U.S. Protests Spread In Korea, GIs Restricted

SEOUL, Korea (AP) — Anti-American demonstrations spread in South Korea today. The U.S. Army ordered American military personnel in the Seoul area restricted to base except for official business.

A U.S. Army spokesman called the confinement order a "temporary measure to reduce the possibility of incidents" in view of the wave of demonstrations demanding the U.S. government sign a status-of-forces agreement giving South Korea court jurisdiction over American servicemen in some instances.

Students Defy Warnings

About 300 university students defying stern new warnings from South Korea's ruling military junta marched out of Taegu University today in the third demonstration in a week stemming from the alleged beating of a Korean civilian trespasser by two U.S. Army officers last month.

A solid wall of police halted the students about 100 yards from the main gate of the university in South Korea's third largest city, about 200 miles southeast of Seoul.

Refusing to withdraw, the students squatted in the street and turned their protest into a sit-down strike. There were no reports of violence.

The government announced Friday night that the United States has agreed in principal to resume negotiations toward a status-of-forces pact. But it said Washington had raised issues which South Korea "finds difficult to accept."

U. S. Asked to Reconsider

It did not elaborate on these points but said the United States has been asked to reconsider them.

Reports from Washington quoted officials there as saying "very active consideration" is being given to an agreement. These reports made clear, however, that there is a division of opinion in Washington.

U.S. military men are said to feel that an agreement should not be concluded now because a technical state of war still exists in divided Korea and that is why about 50,000 American troops are stationed in this country.

Doubt New Crisis Over Berlin Note

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. officials say Russia has been embarrassed by the string of refugee incidents in Berlin and has tried to shift the blame with its note accusing the West of provoking trouble along the wall.

Strongest of Late

Although the note was the strongest the Soviet Union has issued recently on Berlin, U.S. authorites said they saw no indication the statement foreshadows a Kremlin effort to start the Berlin crisis boiling again.

The dispute over the divided city has cooled off during the past several months while the United States and Russia have explored various ways of reaching a peaceful solution.

So far the talks have produced no agreement. Another meeting between Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Soviet Ambassador Anatoly Dobrynin is scheduled June 18.

The Russians threatened Friday to step into the Berlin situation, charging the United States, Britain and France with fostering "intensified intrigues of the revengists and militarists" who the note said are "trying to provoke a serious sharpening of the situation in West Berlin."

Regarded as Black Eye

The Washington officials, noting Friday's spectacular East German escape by excursion boat, said they think the Communists feel the repeated escapes and attempted escapes are giving them a blackeye.

Thus, said the officials, the Russians are trying to pin the blame on what they call the revenge-seekers and militarists.

Broome Tragedy

Takes Own Life After Brother Is Slain in Tussle

BINGHAMTON, N.Y. (AP) — Police say a factory worker killed himself on the eve of his 32nd birthday after accidentally shooting his brother to death while grappling for a shotgun.

Followed Argument

Guy Mackey of the nearby Town of Dickinson shot his brother, Gerald, 25, Friday night after, police said, Gerald tried to interfere in a domestic dispute between Guy and his wife, Marion. The brothers argued, then Guy went into another room and took a .12-gauge shotgun from a rack. The gun was discharged as the brothers tussled for it before the wife, police said, and Gerald died of a head wound.

Guy walked into an adjoining room and shot himself.

Both Drinking

Police said the brothers had been drinking.

Guy and his wife, who was in a Binghamton hospital suffering from shock, were the parents of an eight-week - old girl, Patricia. He was employed by the Elliott Manufacturing Co., a firm that produces flexibile tubing.

Gerald, an unemployed window decorator, recently returned here from Syracuse. He was the father of three children but was separated from his wife, police said.

Local Firm Is Low Bidder for Span Job

A Kingston contracting firm has filed a low bid of $224,416 for construction of a bridge and approaches in Creek Road, Town of Poughkeepsie, to carry traffic over the New Haven Railroad tracks.

J. Burch McMorran, state superintendent of public works, said Friday the low bid for the project was submitted by Anthony Costanzi Corp., of Kingston.

McMorran also said that John Arborio Inc., Poughkeepsie, filed a low bid of $325,318.75 for construction of a bridge and approaches at Stringham's Mill in Route 376, Town of Poughkeepsie. It was the only bid filed for the project.

Manuel Dismissal Under GOP Fire

WASHINGTON (AP)—A House subcommittee is reportedly trying to lay its hands on an alleged list naming congressmen and an administration official as receiving money order gifts from Billie Sol Estes.

This was reported Friday by the subcommittee's dismissed Republican counsel, Robert E. Manuel. He spoke to reporters outside a hearing room where the subcommittee was taking testimony that two former agriculture department officials had received such money orders.

Turned Over to Party

James T. Ralph, former assistant secretary of agriculture, told the government operations subcommittee that he and his aide, William E. Morris, each received a pair of $100 money orders from Estes, last January—and turned the money over to the Democratic party.

Both Ralph and Morris have been fired because of their connections with the indicted Texas promoter whose boom-to-bust operations under government farm programs have stirred charges he curried and got favored treatment from officials.

Denies Accepting Gifts

Ralph denied accepting gifts from Estes and also denied that he or anyone else in the agriculture department had ever granted favors to Estes.

Meanwhile Republicans blazed away at the dismissal Thursday of Manuel as the minority counsel on the subcommittee which is headed by Rep. L. H. Fountain, D-N.C.

The Democratic majority on the committee voted to fire him for leaking an agriculture department report on Estes to a newspaper. But the Republican congressional committee charged Manuel was "dumped...when he found out Estes had chummy contacts" with Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson.

No LBJ Comment

Johnson had no comment.

Predict GOP Factions Will Unite for Nixon Campaign

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Richard M. Nixon's strategists say California's so-called right-wing movement has not increased substantially in numbers in the past decade.

But it has gained in zeal and organization, they said Friday in analyzing the former vice president's 2 to 1 victory over Assemblyman Joseph C. Shell in the state's Republican gubernatorial primary.

Nixon aides said the hotly contested primary campaign should leave no permanent scars. And they predicted GOP factions will unite behind Nixon in an effort to oust the Democratic incumbent, Gov. Edmund G. Brown, in November.

The Nixon aides added that regardless of differences among party factions over the John Birch Society, they believe conservatives who supported Shell will rally behind Nixon.

Shell did not endorse or oppose the society during the primary campaign. But he did decry Nixon's efforts to read Birchers out of the party.

Nixon has said he wants to meet with Republican Reps. John H. Rousselot and Edgar W. Hiestand, both Birch Society members, in an attempt to get them to withdraw from the organization.

Nixon said that although the two congressmen have had good records, he believes membership in the society is inconsistent with Republican party leadership.

The Nixon camp said a solution to the differing opinions will be worked out by August, when the Republicans hold their platform meeting in Sacramento.

Estes' Money Tied To Democrat Party

Saugerties Pro-School Unit Forms

A new Saugerties Central School parents' group advocating passage of the $1,200,000 school bond issue to be voted on June 21 was organized this week.

A statement issued today by Virgil Detweiler of Fish Creek, a spokesman for the group, indicated that more than 20 committee members are canvassing the eligible voters of the school district for signatures to a petition seeking passage of the bond issue and soliciting funds to pay for full-page advertisements in all newspapers circulated in Saugerties.

Stress Urgent Need

The advertisements will stress the need for additional school rooms now and will list the names of the contributors, Detweiler said.

The group will be known as Parents Who Care.

The statement said the only motive of the group is to provide adequate education for all children in Saugerties Central School District.

The proposition on the ballot if approved would provide for a new 14-room elementary school on a site in Katsbaan, and a nucleus junior high school building on the present junior-senior high school site on Washington Avenue Extension.

Defeated by 45 Votes

The proposal when originally submitted to the voters on May 9 was defeated 1,220 to 1,275, a margin of 45 votes.

The statement said, the proposition as resubmitted is a reasonable and proper solution to the problem of classroom shortage. Fully realizing it is not the final solution, the committee said it recognized the fact that 400 children are now on split sessions and that further delay will cause the number to swell to over 1,000.

The statement declared that action must be taken now and urged all eligible school district

Anti-U.S. Protests Spread In Korea, GIs Restricted

SEOUL, Korea (AP) — Anti-American demonstrations spread in South Korea today. The U.S. Army ordered American military personnel in the Seoul area restricted to base except for official business.

A U.S. Army spokesman called the confinement order a "temporary measure to reduce the possibility of incidents" in view of the wave of demonstrations demanding the U.S. government sign a status-of-forces agreement giving South Korea court jurisdiction over American servicemen in some instances.

Students Defy Warnings

About 300 university students defying stern new warnings from South Korea's ruling military junta marched out of Taegu University today in the third demonstration in a week stemming from the alleged beating of a Korean civilian trespasser by two U.S. Army officers last month.

A solid wall of police halted the students about 100 yards from the main gate of the university in South Korea's third largest city, about 200 miles southeast of Seoul.

Refusing to withdraw, the students squatted in the street and turned their protest into a sit-down strike. There were no reports of violence.

The government announced Friday night that the United States has agreed in principal to resume negotiations toward a status-of-forces pact. But it said Washington had raised issues which South Korea "finds difficult to accept."

U. S. Asked to Reconsider

It did not elaborate on these points but said the United States has been asked to reconsider them.

Reports from Washington quoted officials there as saying "very active consideration" is being given to an agreement. These reports made clear, however, that there is a division of opinion in Washington.

U.S. military men are said to feel that an agreement should not be concluded now because a technical state of war still exists in divided Korea and that is why about 50,000 American troops are stationed in this country.

Doubt New Crisis Over Berlin Note

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. officials say Russia has been embarrassed by the string of refugee incidents in Berlin and has tried to shift the blame with its note accusing the West of provoking trouble along the wall.

Strongest of Late

Although the note was the strongest the Soviet Union has issued recently on Berlin, U.S. authorites said they saw no indication the statement foreshadows a Kremlin effort to start the Berlin crisis boiling again.

The dispute over the divided city has cooled off during the past several months while the United States and Russia have explored various ways of reaching a peaceful solution.

So far the talks have produced no agreement. Another meeting between Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Soviet Ambassador Anatoly Dobrynin is scheduled June 18.

The Russians threatened Friday to step into the Berlin situation, charging the United States, Britain and France with fostering "intensified intrigues of the revengists and militarists" who the note said are "trying to provoke a serious sharpening of the situation in West Berlin."

Regarded as Black Eye

The Washington officials, noting Friday's spectacular East German escape by excursion boat, said they think the Communists feel the repeated escapes and attempted escapes are giving them a blackeye.

Thus, said the officials, the Russians are trying to pin the blame on what they call the revenge-seekers and militarists.

Takes Own Life After Brother Is Slain in Tussle

BINGHAMTON, N.Y. (AP) — Police say a factory worker killed himself on the eve of his 32nd birthday after accidentally shooting his brother to death while grappling for a shotgun.

Followed Argument

Guy Mackey of the nearby Town of Dickinson shot his brother, Gerald, 25, Friday night after, police said, Gerald tried to interfere in a domestic dispute between Guy and his wife, Marion. The brothers argued, then Guy went into another room and took a .12-gauge shotgun from a rack. The gun was discharged as the brothers tussled for it before the wife, police said, and Gerald died of a head wound.

Guy walked into an adjoining room and shot himself.

Both Drinking

Police said the brothers had been drinking.

Guy and his wife, who was in a Binghamton hospital suffering from shock, were the parents of an eight-week - old girl, Patricia. He was employed by the Elliott Manufacturing Co., a firm that produces flexible tubing.

Gerald, an unemployed window decorator, recently returned here from Syracuse. He was the father of three children but was separated from his wife, police said.

McMorran also said that John Arborio Inc., Poughkeepsie, filed a low bid of $325,318.75 for construction of a bridge and approaches at Stringham's Mill in Route 376, Town of Poughkeepsie. It was the only bid filed for the project.

Manuel Dismissal Under GOP Fire

WASHINGTON (AP)—A House subcommittee is reportedly trying to lay its hands on an alleged list naming congressmen and an administration official as receiving money order gifts from Billie Sol Estes.

This was reported Friday by the subcommittee's dismissed Republican counsel, Robert E. Manuel. He spoke to reporters outside a hearing room where the subcommittee was taking testimony that two former agriculture department officials had received such money orders.

Turned Over to Party

James T. Ralph, former assistant secretary of agriculture, told the government operations subcommittee that he and his aide, William E. Morris, each received a pair of $100 money orders from Estes, last January—and turned the money over to the Democratic party.

Both Ralph and Morris have been fired because of their connections with the indicted Texas promoter whose boom-to-bust operations under government farm programs have stirred charges he curried and got favored treatment from officials.

Denies Accepting Gifts

Ralph denied accepting gifts from Estes and also denied that he or anyone else in the agriculture department had ever granted favors to Estes.

Meanwhile Republicans blazed away at the dismissal Thursday of Manuel as the minority counsel on the subcommittee which is headed by Rep. L. H. Fountain, D-N.C.

The Democratic majority on the committee voted to fire him for leaking an agriculture department report on Estes to a newspaper. But the Republican congressional committee charged Manuel was "dumped...when he found out Estes had chummy contacts" with Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson.

Johnson had no comment.

Scott Formally Graduated, Glenn To Get Degree

BOULDER, Colo. (AP)—Astronaut Malcolm Scott Carpenter exchanged his space helmet for an orange-tasseled mortarboard Friday and formally graduated from the University of Colorado.

Amid smiles and applause, the 37-year-old hometown hero accepted the aeronautical engineering degree he missed in 1949 by failing to take a final examination in a heat transfer course. School officials decided to make the award after his May 24 space flight.

Carpenter joined 1,821 other graduates as an estimated 10,000 guests looked on in Folsom Stadium. He also received the university's Norlin award, given annually to a distinguished alumnus for outstanding achievement.

NEW CONCORD, Ohio (AP)—It has taken John Glenn nearly 20 years but the nation's first orbiting astronaut finally is going to get his bachelor's degree from Muskingum College.

Glenn, of New Concord, dropped out of Muskingum early in World War II after finishing about three years work toward his degree.

He never resumed, but the college faculty announced Friday that Glenn has earned the equivalency of a bachelor's degree through his work in the armed services and National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

Glenn will not be able to attend the June 11 commencement exercises, but he said he hopes to visit the campus later to receive the diploma in person.

The preceding repeat courses are for students who have pursued a course during the school year but failed and wish to review. Upon satisfactory completion of the summer session, the student will gain credit.

In keeping with the current trend and philosophy of summer schools, the Kingston Summer High School will offer a variety of subjects to enrich the educational opportunity of the students. The folowing is a tentative list of advanced subjects:

When all students have registered, the students with the greatest number of units will be given first choice. After all local students have been enrolled, students from outside the district will be accepted.

A printed brochure for further information on the summer session is available on request.

Three Held for Assault

Three Kingston persons were arrested Friday afternoon on charges of assault third degree. The three persons were Jacomina La Monte, 21 and Joseph La Monte, 24, both of 231 Albany Avenue and Vinet La Monte, 48, of Mary Avenue, Lake Katrine. The trio was arraigned before Special City Judge Hugh R. Elwyn. All three cases were adjourned until Monday at 9 a. m.

MACAO (AP)—The Portuguese government has appealed to the U.N. refugee commissioner in Geneva for financial help to resettle more than 30,000 refugees from Communist China.

publican House to restore honesty to government."

Speaking to reporters, Manuel said Morris had a list of persons who allegedly got Estes' money orders.

"The testimony taken in executive session related to a list of individuals to whom Estes allegedly sent gifts in the form of money orders," said Manuel at an informal press conference.

Certain Congress N ies

The list, he said, includes the names of "certain members of Congress and at least one very high-ranking administration official."

Ralph added he has no personal knowledge of anyone other than himself and Morris who received money orders from Estes.

Asked about Ralph's statement that he had reported the money orders to Agriculture Secretary Freeman, Thomas R. Hughes, Freeman's executive secretary, told a reporter:

"We have absolutely no evidence of any memorandum to this effect being received in the secretary's office."

In his talk with reporters outside the hearings, Manuel issued a statement denouncing the inquiry and criticizing chairman Fountain.

Manuel called the subcommittee's investigation a "one-party operation" and claimed it "is being distorted" to protect important political figures.

Fountain said Manuel's claim is "obviously a political statement without foundation."

Sheep Come First

LONDON (AP) — Sidney Smith has been released from jail for the sake of his sheep.

The 60-year-old farmer was in the midst of shearing his 500 sheep when he was clamped in jail for refusing to obey a court order to show records of his late brother's estate.

Smith went to the high court Friday and appealed to Justice Richard Orme Wilberforce to free him. He said the sheep would die if their fleeces were not removed.

The judge released Smith immediately saying: "I do not want to cause the sheep any unnecessary suffering."

Italian Father Seeks Cure for Son's Blindness

NEW YORK (AP)—An impoverished Italian cobbler has again shunted aside medical evidence dooming his son to a life of blindness with a vow to roam the earth until "someone—somewhere will help my child."

Vincenzo D'Ambrosio and his 5-year-old son, Nunzio, arrived here Friday by ship from their native Italy clinging to the frail hope that a sixth operation on the boy could restore his sight.

Less than two hours after their arrival the boy had been examined by Dr. Vito La Rocca, an eye surgeon, and the father was told, "There is no operation in the world that can help."

Nunzio lost the sight of his left eye three years ago when he fell and his head struck a chair. The blow also injured his right eye. He now can only distinguish between extreme brightness or extreme darkness.

Although the 42-year-old father had received the same heartbreaking news after each of five earlier operations performed on the boy in Italy, he broke down and cried.

Later, at a Manhattan residence where he and the child will remain until their ship leaves Monday for the return journey, D'Ambrosio pledged to "keep going around the world until I satisfy myself that the sight of my son cannot fully be restored."

"I have hope and faith that someone — somewhere will help my child," he said.

Charge Three

last week by city detectives and charged with trespassing on railroad property. At the time of the arrest the trio had several screwdrivers in their possession according to the bureau. The screwdrivers were reported by the New York State Police Scientific Laboratory in Albany to be the same ones used to break into the service station machines.

BCI says that the trio is also suspected of committing two other service station burglaries which took place the same day, around the same time, in the same area and by the same method as the one they are charged with.

Kingston BCI men participating in the arrest were Senior Investigator Edward Shannon, Investigator Joseph Ventriglia and Trooper Thomas J. Crowley.

The statement continued: "Because we believe that people who make public statements on public issues have a moral obligation to identify themselves, we have offered our names to be used in the advertisements to be published this week and have contributed to the cost of publication."

The Parents Who Care group now becomes the second organized group to advocate passage of the bond issue. The Citizens' Advisory Committee has been prominent in its campaign for passage of the proposition.

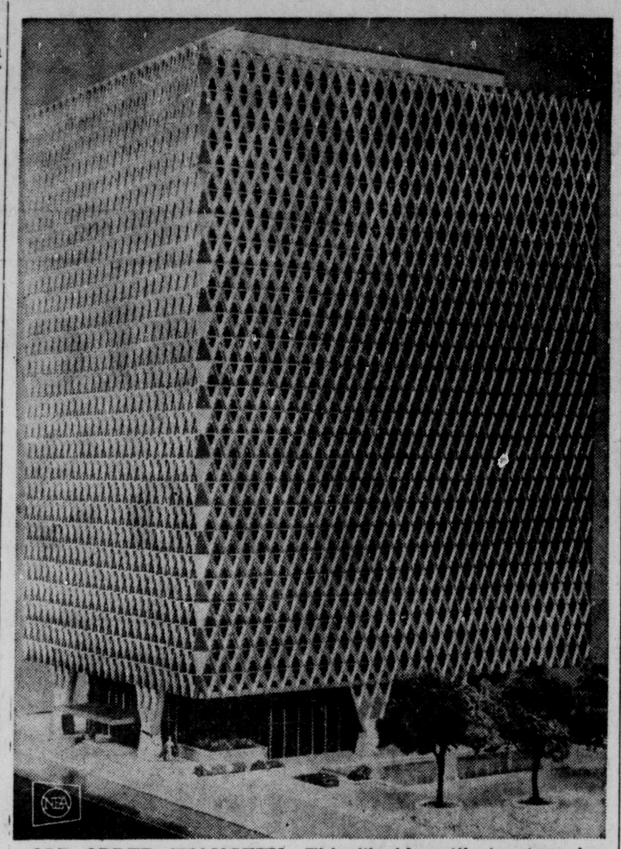

Campaigning against the bond issue are the Committee for Fair Play, the Taxpaying Parents of Saugerties and a committee of Saugerties Taxpayers Association.

Wide Areas Hit By Thunderstorm

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Thunderstorms hit wide areas along a front stretching from Illinois to northwest Texas early today while most of the rest of the nation enjoyed dry, summer-like weather.

The front separated a mass of cool, dry air covering the northern part of the country from warm, moist air pushing north from the gulf. Rainfall ranged from light showers to 1.1 inches at South Bend, Ind.

Several tornadoes were spawned by the turbulent weather Friday night. Twisters hit Goodwell and West Guymon, both in the handle region of Oklahoma. Funnel clouds were sighted earlier at Big Spring, Tex., and Warrensburg, Mo.

High winds downed utility lines in several of Chicago's northwest suburbs and blanked out radar operations for a time at O'Hare International Airport in the same area.

A hail storm wiped out the cotton crop in a five-mile swath across about 30 miles of Terry County, Tex. Heavy property damage also was reported.

Temperatures were in the 60s and 70s during the night in all sections of the nation except the northeast, the central and northern Rockies, parts of the plains states and most of the Pacific Coast. The lowest reading reported was 41 at Laramie, Wyo.

Showers and thunderstorms were expected today in nearly all areas from the plains region eastward.

Clear Executive Of Park Payoffs

NEW YORK (AP)—Edwin G. Michaelian, county executive of Westchester, and others have been cleared of any wrongdoing after a probe of charges of political payoffs in awarding of concessions at an amusement park.

Two special deputies assigned to the probe exonerated Michaelian, the commissioners of Playland Park, and all other accused persons Friday.

The charges had been brought by Rep. Edwin B. Dooley, R-N.Y., who said the concession award was a payoff to the men who supported Ogden R. Reid for the GOP designation as congressional candidate in the 26th district.

Dooley failed to get redesignation by County Republican leaders in that district.

After learning of the deputies' report, Dooley said they did not give enough weight to some of the factors involved in the charges.

Michaelian, Republican county chairman, had appointed Frederick G. Schmidt, a former justice of the State Supreme Court, and Theodore Kiendl, New York lawyer and former special associate state attorney general, to study the charges.

Three in Custody, Planned to Sail For Pacific Site

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Thirty-two nuclear-test objectors spent the night in custody, apparently pleased by the outcome of their defiance of the government in the federal court contempt case involving the crew of the Everyman.

Roger Moss, a spokesman for the Committee for Non-Violent Action, sponsor of the demonstrators, commented:

"It was extremely effective... the largest civil disobedience campaign in the bay area — three times as large as expected."

The peace pickets had to be carried out of the U.S. Post Office Building, which houses federal courts here, after the contempt convictions of Harold Stallings, 30, Menlo Park, Calif.; Evan D. Yoes Jr., 30., Berkeley, and Edward Lazar, 27, New York City.

U.S. Dist. Judge William T. Sweigert sentenced each to 30 days in jail for trying to sail the three-hulled Everyman to the Christmas Island nuclear testing grounds against a court order.

The trio was arrested and the sailboat seized outside the Golden Gate May 26.

The picketing sympathizers of the three defendants had been warned they were violating the law by remaining in the building Friday but no action was taken other than to carry their imp forms to the street on strecthers.

When they entered the building a second time, through another entrance, the arrests promptly followed. There were 20 men, 5 women and 7 juveniles.

They are charged with obstructing a U.S. marshall in the performance of his duties and could be punished with 30-day jail terms and-or $50 fines.

Canada Is Focal Point of Search For Lothringer

NEW YORK (AP)—The search centered today in Canada for Dr. Harvey Lothringer, wanted in the abortion death of a Catholic college schoolgirl, whose dismembered body was found in a sewer leading from the physician's expensive home and office.

The victim was Barbara Lofrumento, 19, taken by her mother last Sunday to Lothringer for an abortion. The girl, a student at the College of New Rochelle, was four months pregnant.

Lothringer has been missing from his Queens office-home since Sunday, after telling Mrs. Lofrumento to go home and await a call from him. Also missing is the doctor's pretty receptionist-girl friend, Theresa Carillo.

In Brooklyn late Friday, a federal warrant was issued charging Lothringer with unlawful flight to avoid arrest on an abortion charge not connected with the Lofrumento girl's death.

The Queens district attorney's office had been investigating activities of the doctor in recent weeks. Since Barbara's death, federal authorities entered the picture.

Asst. U.S. Atty. John Sullivan told newsmen Lothringer has been traced to the area of his family's Canadian hunting lodge about 60 miles north of Montreal. Canadian Mounted Police have been alerted.

The possibility also existed that Lothringer and Miss Carillo may be in Cuba. She is a Cuban national and her mother resides in Havana. If they went there, it poses a legal problem since the U.S. has no diplomatic relations with Castro's Cuba.

Po'keepsie Boy, 12, Suffers Leg Burns

A 12-year-old Poughkeepsie boy suffered second and third degree burns of the left leg from ankle to the knee Friday night, when he accidently ignited gasoline on the floor of the family garage.

Police Chief John L. Martin told The Freeman today, Dean Baker, 12, of 156 South Avenue, Poughkeepsie, and his brother, Frank, 14, were working on a model gasoline operated plane in the garage, when the boys spilled some gasoline on the floor.

The chief said, Dean lit a match to light a lantern and he accidently dropped the match, which ignited the gasoline. Dean's pants caught fire, causing the burns of the leg. He was taken to Vassar Hospital and admitted after treatment.

Police Sergeant Leo Maneri responded to a call with the fire department. On arrival firemen learned the fire had been extinguished and the boy removed to the hospital.

A 26-year-old local man was given a summons for leaving the scene of the accident as the result of a one-car accident at 1:43 a. m. today.

City police say that Duane Castellano, 17 Lisa Lane, was issued a summons after his vehicle knocked over several guard rails on Wilbur Avenue near the old city incinerator and he failed to remain at the scene of the accident.

A car behind her vehicle being operated by Raymond Radel, 20, of 32 Circle Drive, Hurley, did not stop in time and struck the Sinagra vehicle in the rear, police said. The Sinagra car came in contact with a vehicle southbound on Broadway after being struck in the rear. The southbound vehicle was operated by John George Rudy, 18, of 17 Pearl Street.

The Sinagra vehicle was damaged about the right rear, the Radel vehicle was damaged about the left side according to police reports.

Scott Formally Graduated, Glenn To Get Degree

BOULDER, Colo. (AP)—Astronaut Malcolm Scott Carpenter exchanged his space helmet for an orange-tasseled mortarboard Friday and formally graduated from the University of Colorado.

Amid smiles and applause, the 37-year-old hometown hero accepted the aeronautical engineering degree he missed in 1949 by failing to take a final examination in a heat transfer course. School officials decided to make the award after his May 24 space flight.

Carpenter joined 1,821 other graduates as an estimated 10,000 guests looked on in Folsom Stadium. He also received the university's Norlin award, given annually to a distinguished alumnus for outstanding achievement.

NEW CONCORD, Ohio (AP)—It has taken John Glenn nearly 20 years but the nation's first orbiting astronaut finally is going to get his bachelor's degree from Muskingum College.

Glenn, of New Concord, dropped out of Muskingum early in World War II after finishing about three years work toward his degree.

He never resumed, but the college faculty announced Friday that Glenn has earned the equivalency of a bachelor's degree through his work in the armed services and National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

Glenn will not be able to attend the June 11 commencement exercises, but he said he hopes to visit the campus later to receive the diploma in person.

A printed brochure for further information on the summer session is available on request.

Three Held for Assault

Three Kingston persons were arrested Friday afternoon on charges of assault third degree. The three persons were Jacomina La Monte, 21 and Joseph La Monte, 24, both of 231 Albany Avenue and Vinet La Monte, 48, of Mary Avenue, Lake Katrine. The trio was arraigned before Special City Judge Hugh R. Elwyn. All three cases were adjourned until Monday at 9 a. m.

MACAO (AP)—The Portuguese government has appealed to the U.N. refugee commissioner in Geneva for financial help to resettle more than 30,000 refugees from Communist China.

ROBERT E. MANUEL

publican House to restore honesty to government."

Speaking to reporters, Manuel said Morris had a list of persons who allegedly got Estes' money orders.

"The testimony taken in executive session related to a list of individuals to whom Estes allegedly sent gifts in the form of money orders," said Manuel at an informal press conference.

Certain Congress N ies

The list, he said, includes the names of "certain members of Congress and at least one very high-ranking administration official."

Ralph added he has no personal knowledge of anyone other than himself and Morris who received money orders from Estes.

Asked about Ralph's statement that he had reported the money orders to Agriculture Secretary Freeman, Thomas R. Hughes, Freeman's executive secretary, told a reporter:

"We have absolutely no evidence of any memorandum to this effect being received in the secretary's office."

In his talk with reporters outside the hearings, Manuel issued a statement denouncing the inquiry and criticizing chairman Fountain.

Manuel called the subcommittee's investigation a "one-party operation" and claimed it "is being distorted" to protect important political figures.

Fountain said Manuel's claim is "obviously a political statement without foundation."

Sheep Come First

LONDON (AP) — Sidney Smith has been released from jail for the sake of his sheep.

The 60-year-old farmer was in the midst of shearing his 500 sheep when he was clamped in jail for refusing to obey a court order to show records of his late brother's estate.

Smith went to the high court Friday and appealed to Justice Richard Orme Wilberforce to free him. He said the sheep would die if their fleeces were not removed.

The judge released Smith immediately saying: "I do not want to cause the sheep any unnecessary suffering."

Italian Father Seeks Cure for Son's Blindness

NEW YORK (AP)—An impoverished Italian cobbler has again shunted aside medical evidence dooming his son to a life of blindness with a vow to roam the earth until "someone—somewhere will help my child."

Vincenzo D'Ambrosio and his 5-year-old son, Nunzio, arrived here Friday by ship from their native Italy clinging to the frail hope that a sixth operation on the boy could restore his sight.

Less than two hours after their arrival the boy had been examined by Dr. Vito La Rocca, an eye surgeon, and the father was told, "There is no operation in the world that can help."

Nunzio lost the sight of his left eye three years ago when he fell and his head struck a chair. The blow also injured his right eye. He now can only distinguish between extreme brightness or extreme darkness.

Although the 42-year-old father had received the same heart-breaking news after each of five earlier operations performed on the boy in Italy, he broke down and cried.

Later, at a Manhattan residence where he and the child will remain until their ship leaves Monday for the return journey, D'Ambrosio pledged to "keep going around the world until I satisfy myself that the sight of my son cannot fully be restored."

"I have hope and faith that someone — somewhere will help my child," he said.

Charge Three

last week by city detectives and charged with trespassing on railroad property. At the time of the arrest the trio had several screwdrivers in their possession according to the bureau. The screwdrivers were reported by the New York State Police Scientific Laboratory in Albany to be the same ones used to break into the service station machines.

BCI says that the trio is also suspected of committing two other service station burglaries which took place the same day, around the same time, in the same area and by the same method as the one they are charged with.

Kingston BCI men participating in the arrest were Senior Investigator Edward Shannon, Investigator Joseph Ventriglia and Trooper Thomas J. Crowley.

Saugerties

voters to approve the proposition on June 21.

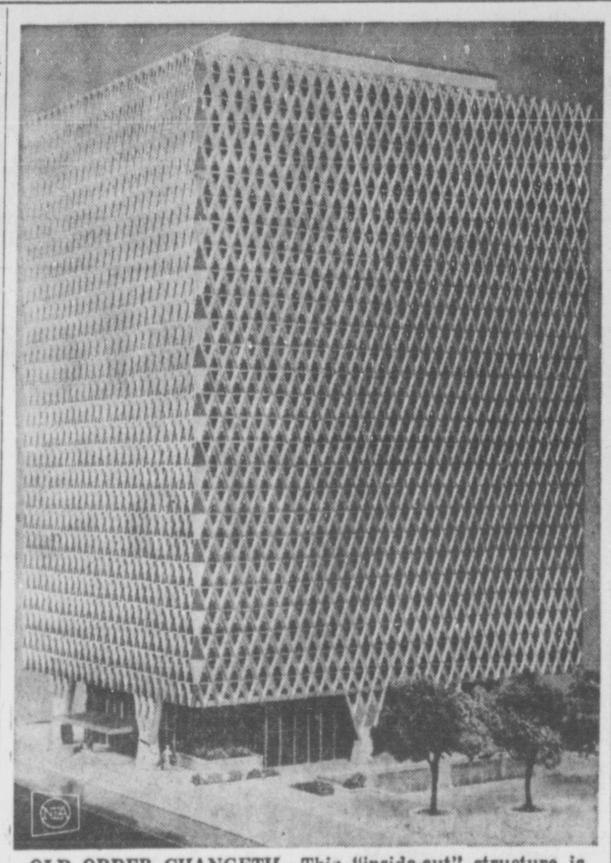

The statement continued: "Because we believe that people who make public statements on public issues have a moral obligation to identify themselves, we have offered our names to be used in the advertisements to be published this week and have contributed to the cost of publication."

The Parents Who Care group now becomes the second organized group to advocate passage of the bond issue. The Citizens' Advisory Committee has been prominent in its campaign for passage of the proposition.

Campaigning against the bond issue are the Committee for Fair Play, the Taxpaying Parents of Saugerties and a committee of Saugerties Taxpayers Association.

Wide Areas Hit By Thunderstorm

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Thunderstorms hit wide areas along a front stretching from Illinois to northwest Texas early today while most of the rest of the nation enjoyed dry, summer-like weather.

The front separated a mass of cool, dry air covering the northern part of the country from warm, moist air pushing north from the gulf. Rainfall ranged from light showers to 1.1 inches at South Bend, Ind.

Several tornadoes were spawned by the turbulent weather Friday night. Twisters hit in the Goodwell and West Guymon, both in the handle region of Oklahoma. Funnel clouds were sighted earlier at Big Spring, Tex., and Warrensburg, Mo.

High winds downed utility lines in several of Chicago's northwest suburbs and blanked out radar operations for a time at O'Hare International Airport in the same area.

A hail storm wiped out the cotton crop in a five-mile swath across about 30 miles of Terry County, Tex. Heavy property damage also was reported.

Temperatures were in the 60s and 70s during the night in all sections of the nation except the northeast, the central and northern Rockies, parts of the plains states and most of the Pacific Coast. The lowest reading reported was 41 at Laramie, Wyo.

Showers and thunderstorms were expected today in nearly all areas from the plains region eastward.

Clear Executive Of Park Payoffs

NEW YORK (AP)—Edwin G. Michaelian, county executive of Westchester, and others have been cleared of any wrongdoing after a probe of charges of political payoffs in awarding of concessions at an amusement park.

Two special deputies assigned to the probe exonerated Michaelian, the commissioners of Playland Park, and all other accused persons Friday.

The charges had been brought by Rep. Edwin B. Dooley, R-N.Y., who said the concession award was a payoff to the men who supported Ogden R. Reid for the GOP designation as congressional candidate in the 26th district.

Dooley failed to get redesignation by County Republican leaders in that district.

After learning of the deputies' report, Dooley said they did not give enough weight to some of the factors involved in the charges.

Michaelian, Republican county chairman, had appointed Frederick G. Schmidt, a former justice of the State Supreme Court, and Theodore Kiendl, New York lawyer and former special associate state attorney general, to study the charges.

Three in Custody, Planned to Sail For Pacific Site

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Thirty-two nuclear-test objectors spent the night in custody, apparently pleased by the outcome of their defiance of the government in the federal court contempt case involving the crew of the Everyman.

Roger Moss, a spokesman for the Committee for Non-Violent Action, sponsor of the demonstrators, commented:

"It was extremely effective... the largest civil disobedience campaign in the bay area — three times as large as expected."

The peace pickets had to be carried out of the U.S. Post Office Building, which houses federal courts here, after the contempt convictions of Harold Stallings, 30, Menlo Park, Calif.; Evan D. Yoes Jr., 30., Berkeley, and Edward Lazar, 27, New York City.

U.S. Dist. Judge William T. Sweigert sentenced each to 30 days in jail for trying to sail the three-hulled Everyman to the Christmas Island nuclear testing grounds against a court order.

The trio was arrested and the sailboat seized outside the Golden Gate May 26.

The picketing sympathizers of the three defendants had been warned they were violating the law by remaining in the building Friday but no action was taken other than to carry their limp forms to the street on stretchers.

When they entered the building a second time, through another entrance, the arrests promptly followed. There were 20 men, 5 women and 7 juveniles.

They are charged with obstructing a U.S. marshall in the performance of his duties and could be punished with 30-day jail terms and-or $50 fines.

Canada Is Focal Point of Search For Lothringer

NEW YORK (AP)—The search centered today in Canada for Dr. Harvey Lothringer, wanted in the abortion death of a Catholic college schoolgirl, whose dismembered body was found in a sewer leading from the physician's expensive home and office.

The victim was Barbara Lofrumento, 19, taken by her mother last Sunday to Lothringer for an abortion. The girl, a student at the College of New Rochelle, was four months pregnant.

Lothringer has been missing from his Queens office-home since Sunday, after telling Mrs. Lofrumento to go home and await a call from him. Also missing is the doctor's pretty receptionist-girl friend, Theresa Carillo.

In Brooklyn late Friday, a federal warrant was issued charging Lothringer with unlawful flight to avoid arrest on an abortion charge not connected with the Lofrumento girl's death.

The Queens district attorney's office had been investigating activities of the doctor in recent weeks. Since Barbara's death, federal authorities entered the picture.

Asst. U.S. Atty. John Sullivan told newsmen Lothringer has been traced to the area of his family's Canadian hunting lodge about 60 miles north of Montreal. Canadian Mounted Police have been alerted.

The possibility also existed that Lothringer and Miss Carillo may be in Cuba. She is a Cuban national and her mother resides in Havana. If they went there, it poses a legal problem since the U.S. has no diplomatic relations with Castro's Cuba.

Po'keepsie Boy, 12, Suffers Leg Burns

A 12-year-old Poughkeepsie boy suffered second and third degree burns of the left leg from ankle to the knee Friday night, when he accidently ignited gasoline on the floor of the family garage.

Police Chief John L. Martin told The Freeman today, Dean Baker, 12, of 156 South Avenue, Poughkeepsie, and his brother, Frank, 14, were working on a model gasoline operated plane in the garage, when the boys spilled some gasoline on the floor.

The chief said, Dean lit a match to light a lantern and he accidently dropped the match, which ignited the gasoline. Dean's pants caught fire, causing the burns of the leg. He was taken to Vassar Hospital and admitted after treatment.

Police Sergeant Leo Maneri responded to a call with the fire department. On arrival firemen learned the fire had been extinguished and the boy removed to the hospital.

A car behind her vehicle being operated by Raymond Radel, 20, of 32 Circle Drive, Hurley, did not stop in time and struck the Sinagra vehicle in the rear, police said. The Sinagra car came in contact with a vehicle southbound on Broadway after being struck in the rear. The southbound vehicle was operated by John George Rudy, 18, of 17 Pearl Street.

Vim and Vigor — Adenauer Has Plenty of Both

BONN, Germany (AP)—Konrad Adenauer put on a lively performance this week to answer people who keep asking:

Isn't an 86-year-old man too old to run the country? Isn't the chancellor losing his grip after nearly 13 years in office?

He showed plenty of vitality during the four taxing days his Christian Democrat party was in convention. He evidenced few if any signs of inability to concentrate while he made two one-hour speeches and held a news conference where some of the questions got tricky.

Men who were with him from 8 a.m. to midnight for four days say his stamina was unbelievable.

His keynote speech was delivered from notes without text. He received 21 ovations. Applause interrupted him 36 times, and there were 18 outbursts of laughter.

Some party members and veteran political reporters say Adenauer was re-elected to head the party because there was no one groomed to do a better job.

Why does Adenauer continue in the tough job of chancellor rather than quit now and tend his rose garden?

This is the most often-heard explanation: Adenauer wants to go down in history as a great European who triumphed over the Communists, as one of the fathers of a European political union. He feels he has not yet achieved that goal.

Advocates Study On Metric Scale As Standard Here

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress' most vocal advocate of the meter, the liter and the gram said today he is ready to try again to have them made standard in the United States.

And the sole remaining active member of the self-styled "Economy Party" is as determined as ever that Congress shall not authorize $500,000 for a study of the possibilities and problems of substituting the metric system for the weights and measures now standard in this country.

So another clash between Rep. George P. Miller, D-Calif., chairman of the House Science and Astronautics Committee, and Rep. H. R. Gross, R-Iowa, appears inevitable.

Gross has won them all so far. But Miller says he has effective new tactics and arguments.

"The pharmaceutical industry —which is not a small one—already is on the metric system," he said.

"The big new development is the drive for us to have close trade relationships with the European Common Market. If we are to do business with them, it makes sense to use the same measures they do.

Says Hit Parade Hymns Would Put More in Church

LONDON (AP) — An Anglican cleric said today "hit parade" hymns are the thing to get people back to church.

Canon E. C. Blake, the Church of England's director of education for the diocese of Lincoln, said:

"If we wish to secure a hearing for the gospel today, we must speak in terms that people understand, using their idiom for our good news. There can be no doubt that an idiom readily understood by most people today is that of 'pop' music."

Canon Blake reported that a body including clergymen, organists and schoolmasters are now specializing in producing "sermons on songs." They call themselves "The 20th Century Church Light Music Group."

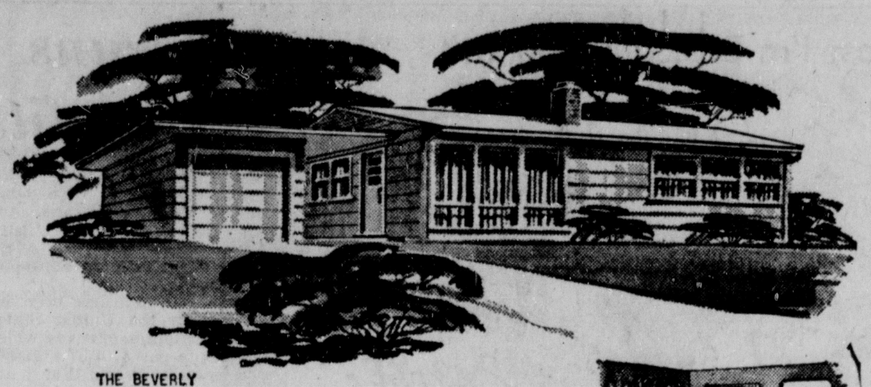

They recently have published "Rhythm In Religion"—a collection of eight new "pop" songs with a religious theme.

Modern Planning Enhances Compact Two-Bedroom Home

By JACK McELENEY

There are many ways to improve the exterior styling of the small modern home, and Associated Architects offers one such example today.

Using a basic rectangular shape for the main living area, the designers decided upon a flat roof for the garage and breezeway which does much to enhance the outward appearance of "The Beverly."

The architects also were particularly careful in arranging the window areas for this two-bedroom dwelling. This was done to improve appearance also, but at the same time they were thinking of providing the utmost in natural light and ventilation. Double and triple window sections were devised wherever possible to give the effect of spaciousness.

This plan falls well into the economy class. Its basic form with no odd wall breaks is an important factor in this direction. Still they were able to provide a generous 788 square feet of living space that will assure comfort and fluid movement for a family that can fit its requirements to two bedrooms.

Well-Planned Living Room

The living room is especially well plotted to fit a floor plan of this size. It is virtually square, a factor that eases the problem of furniture grouping.

Although this space must also include the dining area, it has been fitted into the plan in a manner that takes nothing away from the living room scheme.

The dining area is located in the rear left corner, ideally suited for step-saving access to the kitchen. Furthermore, it has a delightful window area that looks out on the patio-like breezeway that separates the house from the garage.

It is only a step from the dining area to the kitchen, which has been designed in a fashion to bring the work area into a centric U-shape that puts everything within easy reach of the homemaker.

In this way the entrance from the dining room and the rear door are in straight alignment, insuring that traffic through the kitchen moves without detour—or annoyance.

Corner Bedrooms

Each of the bedrooms occupies a corner location on the right side with entrances situated in a manner that provides the utmost in privacy and freedom from disturbance by activities in the main living area. The bathroom is well located too, easily serving the bedrooms and at the same time readily accessible from the living room.

"The Beverly" can be constructed with or without a basement. With a basement it contains 10,939 cubic feet, and without a basement, 9,224 cubic feet. The living area, incidentally, can be increased by simply closing in both ends of the breezeway to create another room.

"Ann is our Washington correspondent," said Nick, and that should set capital journalism ahead a few notches.

Thriving Since Rebel

Some folks were surprised to see Nick tie up with another series. His feature career has been thriving since he left "The Rebel." He has gone from "Hell is for Heroes" to "The Interns" to "The Hook," his current film with Kirk Douglas.

His reasoning: "By the time I finish the second series, I should be independently wealthy. I had a 16 2-3 per cent interest in 'The Rebel,' which so far has netted me $240,000 in capital gains. 200 Workers Go Back, Out Two Hours in Protest

UTICA, N.Y. (AP)—Nearly 200 employes of the New York Telephone Co. in Herkimer and Utica walked off their jobs for two hours Friday in protest against the suspension of a repairman who refused to cross a picket line at a newspaper plant in Little Falls.

The workers, all plant employes, returned to work when the suspension was lifted, a spokesman for the Communications Workers of America said.

Francis Cahill, president of CWA Local 1126, said the man refused to cross a picket line at the Little Falls Evening Times to repair a Teletype machine.

The International Typographical Union has been on strike at the newspaper plant since Jan. 10.

John Murphy, manager of the telephone company's office at Herkimer, called it "an improper walkout." He said the workers "returned shortly afterward."

About 45 men from the Herkimer office and 155 from the district office in Utica participated in the walkout, Cahill said.

Operators and other office personnel were not involved.

Upstate Firm Bids $6,921 for Sign Work

ALBANY — J. Burch McMorran, state superintendent of Public Works, this week announced receipt of a low bid of $6,921 from O. W. Hubbell & Sons, New Hartford, for furnishing and erecting traffic signs along a 9.39 mile section of Route 209 presently being reconstructed. One bid was received.

The sign project begins just north of the Rt. 17 Expressway interchange in Sulivan County and extends northeasterly to Spring Glen in Ulster County.

Work is expected to begin shortly after a contract is officially executed. The contract will be awarded — following a routine check by state engineers of all bids received — to the contractor who is found to have submitted the lowest valid bid. There usually is a lapse of about one month between receipt of bids and contract award.

Scheduled for completion by December 1, all work will be under the supervision of Joseph C. Frederick, district engineer in charge of the department's distric office at Binghamton.

LIU Expels Three In Theft of Test

NEW YORK (AP)—Three students of Long Island University were expelled and 34 others disciplined in the theft of final examination questions from its Brooklyn center.

The announcement from university officials came Friday, one day after commencement.

University officials gave no names and also declined to disclose which school the pupils attended. The university center operates a school of education, a business administration school, a college of arts, a graduate school and a school of science.

A school spokesman said a probe had been under way for two weeks involving the theft of the test questions. He said the investigation was made easier when it was learned that some students with average scholastic records got suspiciously high marks in the examinations.

Of the 34 students disciplined, five were given one-year suspensions, nine were suspended for the semester, and 20 were given failing grades.

Marilyn Sacked, Lee Remick Will Take Over Role

By JAMES BACON
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Marilyn Monroe is out of work today—fired by the same studio that made her a star.

The sacking, which caught almost no one by surprise, came Friday only hours after Marilyn notified 20th Century-Fox that she was "ready and eager to return to work Monday morning."

But the studio wasn't impressed and called in Lee Remick to take over.

In another development, the studio announced it had begun legal action against Marilyn to recover $500,000 allegedly lost as a result of the star's frequent absences from the set.

Marilyn's absentee record included five performance days in seven weeks of shooting for the movie "Something's Got To Give." The picture now is 32 days behind schedule and more than $2 million in debt because of Marilyn's no-show.

"It's sad," said one front-office executive. "But no studio these days can afford to have Liz Taylor and Marilyn Monroe working at the same time — especially a studio that lost $25 million last year."

Miss Taylor's absences from the set have helped run the cost of "Cleopatra" to $30 million — the all-time high in movie costs.

Ideas Best Tool, Stratton Says in University Talk

ROCHESTER, N. Y. (AP) — America's military spending, "however massive," is not intended to buy military victory, "but a kind of military stalemate in which we can prevail with our ideas," Rep. Samuel S. Stratton of Schenectady says.

Stratton, a candidate for the Democratic nomination for governor, spoke Friday at the annual meeting of the Phi Beta Kappa Chapter of the University of Rochester.

Ideas, he said, are the best tool of the American politician. Through them they exert leadership not only within the American public, but also "in the long run, throughout the world."

Stratton, a member of the University's alumni trustees, was here to attend a 25th class reunion.

The International Typographical Union has been on strike at the newspaper plant since Jan. 10.

John Murphy, manager of the telephone company's office at Herkimer, called it "an improper walkout." He said the workers "returned shortly afterward."

About 45 men from the Herkimer office and 155 from the district office in Utica participated in the walkout, Cahill said.

Operators and other office personnel were not involved.

Upstate Firm Bids $6,921 for Sign Work

ALBANY — J. Burch McMorran, state superintendent of Public Works, this week announced receipt of a low bid of $6,921 from O. W. Hubbell & Sons, New Hartford, for furnishing and erecting traffic signs along a 9.39 mile section of Route 209 presently being reconstructed. One bid was received.

The sign project begins just north of the Rt. 17 Expressway interchange in Sulivan County and extends northeasterly to Spring Glen in Ulster County.

Work is expected to begin shortly after a contract is officially executed. The contract will be awarded — following a routine check by state engineers of all bids received — to the contractor who is found to have submitted the lowest valid bid. There usually is a lapse of about one month between receipt of bids and contract award.

Scheduled for completion by December 1, all work will be under the supervision of Joseph C. Frederick, district engineer in charge of the department's distric office at Binghamton.

LIU Expels Three In Theft of Test

NEW YORK (AP)—Three students of Long Island University were expelled and 34 others disciplined in the theft of final examination questions from its Brooklyn center.

The announcement from university officials came Friday, one day after commencement.

University officials gave no names and also declined to disclose which school the pupils attended. The university center operates a school of education, a business administration school, a college of arts, a graduate school and a school of science.

A school spokesman said a probe had been under way for two weeks involving the theft of the test questions. He said the investigation was made easier when it was learned that some students with average scholastic records got suspiciously high marks in the examinations.

Of the 34 students disciplined, five were given one-year suspensions, nine were suspended for the semester, and 20 were given failing grades.

Marilyn Sacked, Lee Remick Will Take Over Role

By JAMES BACON
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Marilyn Monroe is out of work today—fired by the same studio that made her a star.

The sacking, which caught almost no one by surprise, came Friday only hours after Marilyn notified 20th Century-Fox that she was "ready and eager to return to work Monday morning."

But the studio wasn't impressed and called in Lee Remick to take over.

In another development, the studio announced it had begun legal action against Marilyn to recover $500,000 allegedly lost as a result of the star's frequent absences from the set.

Marilyn's absentee record included five performance days in seven weeks of shooting for the movie "Something's Got To Give." The picture now is 32 days behind schedule and more than $2 million in debt because of Marilyn's no-show.

"It's sad," said one front-office executive. "But no studio these days can afford to have Liz Taylor and Marilyn Monroe working at the same time — especially a studio that lost $25 million last year."

Miss Taylor's absences from the set have helped run the cost of "Cleopatra" to $30 million — the all-time high in movie costs.

Ideas Best Tool, Stratton Says in University Talk

ROCHESTER, N. Y. (AP) — America's military spending, "however massive," is not intended to buy military victory, "but a kind of military stalemate in which we can prevail with our ideas," Rep. Samuel S. Stratton of Schenectady says.

Stratton, a candidate for the Democratic nomination for governor, spoke Friday at the annual meeting of the Phi Beta Kappa Chapter of the University of Rochester.

Ideas, he said, are the best tool of the American politician. Through them they exert leadership not only within the American public, but also "in the long run, throughout the world."

Stratton, a member of the University's alumni trustees, was here to attend a 25th class reunion.

RED SUNSET IN EUROPE

For years after World War II, the United States was deeply concerned at the popular strength of the Communist parties in France and Italy. They were corraling from 30 to 40 per cent of the vote in major elections.

Knowledgeable students of these countries hastened to explain that this appearance of strength was always misleading, that much of the Reds' popular support was "protest voting" and nothing more.

Many Frenchmen and Italians, surrounded by the chaos of war's aftermath, evidently felt there was no other way they could effectively voice their distress. Experts said large numbers of these would have been stunned had the Communist party actually gained power.

Today trained observers looking at France and Italy see a vastly different situation. The fantastic economic booms in these lands have reduced the "protest" sharply. Communist parties are being pared to their hard core.

Complex factors are at work to compound this change.

Western Europe's brand of socialism is said by many to be reaching "the end of the road." Most governments have adopted the moderate portions of it long since, and there seems little market among the voters for the more extreme varieties of nationalization of industry.

Inevitably this tends to discredit the even greater extremes of communism. The old slogans sound tired and empty—especially when set beside the rousing figures of economic progress.

Furthermore, a new generation is growing up which does not remember those Communists who were widely admired in France and Italy for their bold roles in the wartime underground. Thus sympathy for the party's hard core leaders is dwindling.

To add to the Reds' woes, they are suffering severely from internal rifts. Premier Khrushchev's de-Stalinization program has rocked many Western European Communists, who no longer know what to believe. Confirmed Stalinists are pitted against younger, professedly more "liberal" Reds.

All of this represents heavy reversal for Moscow, which once thought it was well on the way to communizing all Europe. It spells smashing triumph for the free Western way of life.

We in the free world dare not relax our vigilance against the eternal militancy of communism. But we can find immense satisfaction in the clear decline of the French and Italian Communist parties.

Billy Graham says the stock market drop may be a warning from on high. But market analysts are expected to go on trying to figure out what happened.

The sentence of three Ukrainians to death for an apple swindle seems harsh. After all, they were just trying to prove that there's sugar in fruit.

RED BLUEPRINT FLAWS

If Khrushchev's claim of a new liberality for the Russian people had any sheen left it must have been rubbed off by the premier's recent announcement about food prices. Urbanites already had been told that meat and butter prices were to be raised 25 to 30 per cent. But this was not a simple economic decree; there was the threat of the knout behind it. Those "who do not wish to understand," Khrushchev said, must face disciplinary action.

While it was not described, the probable nature of this discipline bodes ill for the Russian people. The Kremlin's attitude toward economic malefactors has become increasingly harsh of late.

Even neutral governments were shocked by the news from Moscow that the death penalty had been prescribed for the relatively innocuous crime of manipulating currency. An inhumane step, but further evidence that the Soviet Union's economy is in dire trouble.

There has been plenty of evidence that this was the case. Production of sufficient food has given the communists particular trouble, a circumstance reflected in the meat and butter price boosts. Khrushchev's warning of punishment for any who seek to evade the regulations underscores the extent to which the Soviet government's vaunted economic planning has gone agley.

In Russia they have a new twist on an old slogan. They say it this way. "No taxation without regimentation."

Russia and Cuba sign a new trade pact. Cuba will get trucks, machine tools, cement and the like. Russia will get Cuba.

'These Days'

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY

A LOOK BACK

In the discussions about Cuba and Indonesia, Laos and elsewhere, it is clear that the State Department, when Franklin D. Rooseevlt was President, develped a concept that there were good dictators and bad dictators, honest men and dishonest men and that political judgements were to be based upon such psychological considerations.

This is brought out most clearly in a memorandum dated March 9, 1943, signed by John Davies, Jr., the Second Secretary of the American Embassy in China. Discussing the Stillwell Mission to China, Davies wrote:

"We recognized before December 7, 1951 that China was endeavoring to get us to fight its battle against Japan. There has been no reason for a change in this Chinese attitude and there has in fact been no change, despite the disillusioning shock of Pearl Harbor which struck the Chinese with as great force as it did us."

This was written on March 9, 1943. The Chinese had been fighting the Japanese since 1931. The Japanese had taken Manchuria and the major commercial port of Shanghai. China had stood alone for 10 years until the United States entered the war. Beset by Communist activities, supported by Russia, China had fought valiantly and unconquered.

But Davies wrote:

"We have not bled enough for the liking of the Russians, the British or the Chinese. With political considerations looming so large in their calculations they are each fighting not only the common enemies but also, in a negative fashion, their allies."

What allies did China really have in 1943? Could she have regarded the Russians as allies, knowing that for centuries it had been Russian policy to conquer China? Chiang Kai-shek would have been a fool had he not realized that in the war against Japan, he would have no ally in Soviet Russia. And the fact is that Russia never came into the Far Eastern War until it was really over and then came in, for about a week, for the kill.

Davies also made a great discovery:

"A second fundamental difficulty confronting General Stilwell is that, in addition to his professional military task, he is involved, whether he likes it or not, in Chinese domestic politics."

Davies also wrote:

"In his efforts to short-circuit domestic politics, General Stilwell has as much as possible dealt directly with the Generalissimo. But the Generalissimo maintains his paramount position as he attained it—through political manipulation. He is not a dictator. He has no absolute over-all command. He manipulates a delicate and shifting balance of power. So there is no one with sure and final authority with whom General Stilwell can deal."

General Stilwell's task was to win the war. That is what he was sent to China to do. But he really set out to change China. The Chinese people have no concept of self-government. China had never been a national state. It was, in effect, a vast congregation of local self-governments — of village self-governments. Whereas the Emperor possessed great authority, the village was much like a New England township. If a man were asked what he belonged to, he would say Canton or some such place. It has always taken the finest diplomacy to hold China together. I do not mean only during the regime of Chiang Kai-shek, but throughout the history of the country.

It is possible to go on quoting Davies line by line to indicate an intellectual arrogance. Not even Mao Tze-tung has been able ot change China. Davies wote:

"China is badly in need of Puritan spirit. The Chinese have not produced it themselves excepting, in a modified form, in the Generalissimo. If the Chinese Army is to be regenerated, it must be through General Stilwell. What he says sometimes stings the Chinese. But it has not gone wholly unappreciated. More than a score of high-ranking Chinese officers have come to him privately telling him that he was doing China a great service by his forthrightedness, that he is needed, and to keep on going straight down the road. And as has been said, even his political enemies have been impressed by what he has in six months produced at Ramgarh. He may yet perform what has seemed impossible—cause the launching of a Chinese offensive against the Japanese. If it happens it will have been a one-man achievement."

And that is what policy was based on!

We The Women

Fair Sex Perks Up Ears As Talk Turns to $$$

RUTH MILLETT
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

A woman who has had 42 years' experience as a banker claims that people don't really like money. She ought to know what she is talking about.

But listening to the conversation of women it's hard to believe that the gentle sex have an aversion for the folding green.

Some women brag about their bargains—and some about how much they pay for things. But, either way, they seem to dote on the money they enjoy saving or spending.

Most women have their own small economies—whether they have to economize or not. And from the pleasure they take in saving a few pennies here and a few there—often at great inconvenience to themselves—it would seem to follow that they like money pretty well..

Hardly any woman would admit that she is impressed by people who have money—but the conversation of women indicates that when money talks, women listen.

Then consider the lengths a housewife will go in order to have some money of her own. For the right to have her own money she will take a job, hold out from her household allowance, pocket any extra little windfall that comes her way. If she doesn't like money, why is it so important that she have some marked "hers"—no matter how much there is marked "ours"? ... ...

One other thing that makes it hard to believe that women don't like money . . . the way they tighten up at a card game when there is going to be some money changing hands at the end of the game.

The way they quit talking and start concentrating when they are playing cards for money would make you inclined to believe women like money even better than they like to talk.

Washington News

BY PETER EDSON
Washington Correspondent
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Projections that the U. S. population will double by the year 2000—less than 40 years from now—are the cause for more long range thinking in Washington than any other one problem.

What this is taken to mean is that there will have to be twice as many jobs for people to work at, twice as many houses for them to live in, twice as much food for them to eat.

First effects of these coming changes are discernible in many of the programs which President Kennedy has presented to Congress for the promotion of economic growth, creation of full employment, help for depressed areas and reduction of the impact of periods of economic recession.

All these, however, are taken as short term measures to meet existing problems. Far greater in scope are problems of adjustment which may have to be solved to take care of the population growth in the next four decades.

THE TOTAL IMPACT of the changes which may have to be made are described by some planners as the equivalent to a revolution in American life which few people realize.

What is foreseen is the equivalent of a second industrial revolution, a technological revolution, an economic revolution, a revolution caused by growth.

The reasoning behind this is simply that the problems of 360 million people 40 years from now cannot be handled in the same ways that they were, say —during the Coolidge era of 40 years ago, when U. S. population was only 105 million, compared with today's 180 million.

U. S. Department of Agriculture experts anticipate there will be as much progress in farm technology in the years ahead as there hase been in the years behind.

There is no question that U. S. agriculture will be able to produce enough food for 360 million people. But the prediction is that it will be produced on fewer acres by fewer men using new machines and new methods.

A NEW DEPARTMENT OF LABOR research study indicates that technological advances off the farm — industrial automation, to use the ugly phrase for it—will result in a loss of 200,000 jobs a year over the next decade.

These are just two measures of expected evolution.

The revolutionary aspects of such progress come from a belief by far-sighted men that the bad effects of such changes can be corrected while they are happening.

The unskilled common laborer in America is therefore seen as in his way towards oblivion People will be educated and trained for jobs requiring higher skills. Second-class citizens will be seen as liabilities. Efforts will be made to convert them into economic assets, producing and consuming their share of the economy.

There is growing belief by economists that recessions in business and prolonged unemployment for labor are wasteful and unnecessary. Minor fluctuations may be inevitable in a free enterprise system, but their effects can be minimized to stabilize the economy.

This is the peaceful revolution that is foreseen.

Although a good mule may bring $56 there, wives are sold for as little as $45 in the African city of Timbuktu.

Veterans Rights and Benefits Listed

By: Charles L. Culver, NYS Veteran Counselor, NYS Division of Veterans Affairs, and John Tyler, director, Ulster County Veterans Service Agency, 32 Main Street, Kingston, New York.

Pension—A bill has been introduced in the United States House of Representatives which proposes to pay $102.37 a month to veterans of World War 1 under certain conditions. A movement is presently under way to file a petition to have this bill discharged from the House Veterans' Affairs Committee so that it can be brought to the floor of the House of Representatives for consideration.

Insurance—The increased premium rate at the attained age of a policyholder must be paid on a GI term policy when it is renewed automatically at the end of a current term period. The law providing for automatic renewal only eliminates the necessity of making a new application every five years to have the insurance continued.

Bonus—A number of inquiries are continually being made concerning a New York State bonus for Korean veterans. No Korean bonus legislation was enacted during the 1962 session of the New York State Legislation. Bonus legislation in NYS requires a constitutional amendment approved by two successive State Legislatures, after which it is submitted to the voters for their approval. There is no NYS Korean bonus now in effect, and due to constitutional processes, the earliest a bonus would most likely be paid in this state if enacted would be 1966.

Medical—A complete medical statement indicating findings, diagnosis and prognosis should be obtained by a veteran from a private physician to submit with his application for pension or as soon as possible after he makes such application. A complete medical statement may eliminate the need for a VA medical examination and thereby obtain much speedier action in the granting of the pension to the veteran at the earliest possible effective date. The VA can accept an adequate medical statement from a private physician and may use it to determine the rights of a veteran to disability pension without a verification examination, in those cases where a veteran is 65 years of age or over. The statement of a private physician may also be accepted for rating purposes in the pension claim of younger veterans if the medical statement includes findings of generally accepted diagnosis techniques and indicates a permanent total disability which precludes travel.

Social Security—Any disabled person with a long-standing disability who has not made application for Social Security benefits should do so before June 30, 1962. The start of a disability can only be dated back 18 months after June 30, 1962. This means that a person may lose benefits for himself or his dependents if he waits until after June 30 to file for an existing disability.

Questions about the rights and benefits of veterans, servicemen or their dependents may be submitted for individual attention to Mr. Culver or Mr. Tyler, at their office at 32 Main Street, Kingston, N. Y. or by telephone Monday through Friday 9 to 5 — FE 8-1111.

Do You Remember

by Sophie Miller

One of the tourist attractions of New York City is their Fifth Avenue and 42nd Street library. It was illustrated and written up in the May 31, 1962 New York World-Telegram which was sent to me by Captain Andrew Hickey, USN, ret.

Miss Townsend of our Kingston City Library and Port Ewen Library had been on the staff of that world famous library and no doubt could relate some interesting experiences. Some three million people use this library every year, and the Central Reference Library has some four million books in 3,000 languages and dialects. Some 60 per cent of its items are in foreign languages. The main reading room covers a half acre of ground and they have 80 miles of bookshelves.

When I was in New York I had a library card there, one had to have a Manhattan address, as there are neighborhood libraries all over the boroughs and they always seem to prefer you deal with a library which is nearest your home.

The Fifth Avenue Library made a perfect meeting place for you could look at magazines unseen and unheard of on book paperstands. You could read newspapers in the newspaper room, or get books on any subject and of course in any language, and compare them. Sometimes I would get so engrossed in something I was reading that when the one whom I was waiting for showed up I would hate to leave. You checked your packages there for free. In fact, you could check your packages in one entrance, go out the other entrance, and come back the same way and then pick up your packages all for free. They staff the most knowledgeable people in the world, and were wonderful to young students and out-of-towners like myself. No doubt Miss Townsend could tell much more about this from her point of view.

I have a book called Locomotive Catechism dated 1900 by Robert Grimshaw, ME, with many good illustrations on railroad engines, one being of the famous "999" which was then known as "Latest Engine on New York Central, Speed, 100 miles an hour." I understand they ran her between Batavia and Buffalo on a level run at 112 and a half miles in 1893. At the time she hauled the Empire State Express on this world record run. I have colored reprinted pictures of her and other engines from Argosy magazine. This famous "999" had been on exhibition right here in Kingston, on the Greenkill Avenue siding. They had exhibition of old railroad pictures in the station house. Perhaps some of the readers saw it also. It is sad to see that railroad house with the broken windows, that too could have made an excellent "tourist attraction" for old railroad items. I think it is not too far distant that railroad pictures and other items are going to draw tourist trade and money, and we who are or were the railroad center of this section cannot seem to see in the future.

As a marker in this book I found a pamphlet called "The Proposed Adjustment of Passenger Fare, Its Reasonableness and Justification", put out by New York Central Lines around 1915. One item reads: The cost of steam locomotive went up from $17,300 to $23,200;; electric locomotives (not in use 10 years ago) cost $50,000; standard steel passenger coaches, $16,000, as compared with $11,300 for wooden coaches; and wages went up 40 per cent in the 10 years. In speaking about our New York Central on the Hudson River they mention that in the past 12 years the roadbed have been practically rebuilt, with new bridges, 105 pound rails have taken the place of old 65 pound rails, and engines more powerful, steel cars replaced the wooden ones. Anyway remember the $2 round trip excursion trains to New York City from the Kingston station in 1930's?

RED SUNSET IN EUROPE

For years after World War II, the United States was deeply concerned at the popular strength of the Communist parties in France and Italy. They were corraling from 30 to 40 per cent of the vote in major elections.

Knowledgeable students of these countries hastened to explain that this appearance of strength was always misleading, that much of the Reds' popular support was "protest voting" and nothing more.

Many Frenchmen and Italians, surrounded by the chaos of war's aftermath, evidently felt there was no other way they could effectively voice their distress. Experts said large numbers of these would have been stunned had the Communist party actually gained power.

Today trained observers looking at France and Italy see a vastly different situation. The fantastic economic booms in these lands have reduced the "protest" sharply. Communist parties are being pared to their hard core.

Complex factors are at work to compound this change.

Western Europe's brand of socialism is said by many to be reaching "the end of the road." Most governments have adopted the moderate portions of it long since, and there seems little market among the voters for the more extreme varieties of nationalization of industry.

Inevitably this tends to discredit the even greater extremes of communism. The old slogans sound tired and empty—especially when set beside the rousing figures of economic progress.

Furthermore, a new generation is growing up which does not remember those Communists who were widely admired in France and Italy for their bold roles in the wartime underground. Thus sympathy for the party's hard core leaders is dwindling.

To add to the Reds' woes, they are suffering severely from internal rifts. Premier Khrushchev's de-Stalinization program has rocked many Western European Communists, who no longer know what to believe. Confirmed Stalinists are pitted against younger, professedly more "liberal" Reds.

All of this represents heavy reversal for Moscow, which once thought it was well on the way to communizing all Europe. It spells smashing triumph for the free Western way of life.

We in the free world dare not relax our vigilance against the eternal militancy of communism. But we can find immense satisfaction in the clear decline of the French and Italian Communist parties.

Billy Graham says the stock market drop may be a warning from on high. But market analysts are expected to go on trying to figure out what happened.

The sentence of three Ukrainians to death for an apple swindle seems harsh. After all, they were just trying to prove that there's sugar in fruit.

RED BLUEPRINT FLAWS

If Khrushchev's claim of a new liberality for the Russian people had any sheen left it must have been rubbed off by the premier's recent announcement about food prices. Urbanites already had been told that meat and butter prices were to be raised 25 to 30 per cent. But this was not a simple economic decree; there was the threat of the knout behind it. Those "who do not wish to understand," Khrushchev said, must face disciplinary action.

While it was not described, the probable nature of this discipline bodes ill for the Russian people. The Kremlin's attitude toward economic malefactors has become increasingly harsh of late.

Even neutral governments were shocked by the news from Moscow that the death penalty had been prescribed for the relatively innocuous crime of manipulating currency. An inhumane step, but further evidence that the Soviet Union's economy is in dire trouble.

There has been plenty of evidence that this was the case. Production of sufficient food has given the communists particular trouble, a circumstance reflected in the meat and butter price boosts. Khrushchev's warning of punishment for any who seek to evade the regulations underscores the extent to which the Soviet government's vaunted economic planning has gone agley.

In Russia they have a new twist on an old slogan. They say it this way. "No taxation without regimentation."

Russia and Cuba sign a new trade pact. Cuba will get trucks, machine tools, cement and the like. Russia will get Cuba.

'These Days'

A LOOK BACK

In the discussions about Cuba and Indonesia, Laos and elsewhere, it is clear that the State Department, when Franklin D. Rooseevlt was President, develped a concept that there were good dictators and bad dictators, honest men and dishonest men and that political judgements were to be based upon such psychological considerations.

This is brought out most clearly in a memorandum dated March 9, 1943, signed by John Davies, Jr., the Second Secretary of the American Embassy in China. Discussing the Stillwell Mission to China, Davies wrote:

"We recognized before December 7, 1951 that China was endeavoring to get us to fight its battle against Japan. There has been no reason for a change in this Chinese attitude and there has in fact been no change, despite the disillusioning shock of Pearl Harbor which struck the Chinese with as great force as it did us."

This was written on March 9, 1943. The Chinese had been fighting the Japanese since 1931. The Japanese had taken Manchuria and the major commercial port of Shanghai. China had stood alone for 10 years until the United States entered the war. Beset by Communist activities, supported by Russia, China had fought valiantly and unconquered.

But Davies wrote:

"We have not bled enough for the liking of the Russians, the British or the Chinese. With political considerations looming so large in their calculations they are each fighting not only the common enemies but also, in a negative fashion, their allies."

What allies did China really have in 1943? Could she have regarded the Russians as allies, knowing that for centuries it had been Russian policy to conquer China? Chiang Kai-shek would have been a fool had he not realized that in the war against Japan, he would have no ally in Soviet Russia. And the fact is that Russia never came into the Far Eastern War until it was really over and then came in, for about a week, for the kill.

Davies also made a great discovery:

"A second fundamental difficulty confronting General Stilwell is that, in addition to his professional military task, he is involved, whether he likes it or not, in Chinese domestic politics."

Davies also wrote:

"In his efforts to short-circuit domestic politics, General Stilwell has as much as possible dealt directly with the Generalissimo. But the Generalissimo maintains his paramount position as he attained it—through political manipulation. He is not a dictator. He has no absolute over-all command. He manipulates a delicate and shifting balance of power. So there is no one with sure and final authority with whom General Stilwell can deal."

General Stilwell's task was to win the war. That is what he was sent to China to do. But he really set out to change China. The Chinese people have no concept of self-government. China had never been a national state. It was, in effect, a vast congregation of local self-governments — of village self-governments. Whereas the Emperor possessed great authority, the village was much like a New England township. If a man were asked what he belonged to, he would say Canton or some such place. It has always taken the finest diplomacy to hold China together. I do not mean only during the regime of Chiang Kai-shek, but throughout the history of the country.

It is possible to go on quoting Davies line by line to indicate an intellectual arrogance. Not even Mao Tze-tung has been able ot change China. Davies wote:

"China is badly in need of Puritan spirit. The Chinese have not produced it themselves excepting, in a modified form, in the Generalissimo. If the Chinese Army is to be regenerated, it must be through General Stilwell. What he says sometimes stings the Chinese. But it has not gone wholly unappreciated. More than a score of high-ranking Chinese officers have come to him privately telling him that he was doing China a great service by his forthrightedness, that he is needed, and to keep on going straight down the road. And as has been said, even his political enemies have been impressed by what he has in six months produced at Ramgarh. He may yet perform what has seemed impossible—cause the launching of a Chinese offensive against the Japanese. If it happens it will have been a one-man achievement."

And that is what policy was based on!

We The Women

Fair Sex Perks Up Ears As Talk Turns to $$$

RUTH MILLETT
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

A woman who has had 42 years' experience as a banker claims that people don't really like money. She ought to know what she is talking about.

But listening to the conversation of women it's hard to believe that the gentle sex have an aversion for the folding green.

Some women brag about their bargains—and some about how much they pay for things. But, either way, they seem to dote on the money they enjoy saving or spending.

Most women have their own small economies—whether they have to economize or not. And from the pleasure they take in saving a few pennies here and a few there—often at great inconvenience to themselves—it would seem to follow that they like money pretty well.

Hardly any woman would admit that she is impressed by people who have money—but the conversation of women indicates that when money talks, women listen.

Then consider the lengths a housewife will go in order to have some money of her own. For the right to have her own money she will take a job, hold out from her household allowance, pocket any extra little windfall that comes her way. If she doesn't like money, why is it so important that she have some marked "hers"—no matter how much there is marked "ours"? ... ...

One other thing that makes it hard to believe that women don't like money . . . the way they tighten up at a card game when there is going to be some money changing hands at the end of the game.

The way they quit talking and start concentrating when they are playing cards for money would make you inclined to believe women like money even better than they like to talk.

"Easy Fellas, I'm Basically Sound!"

Washington News

BY PETER EDSON
Washington Correspondent
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Projections that the U. S. population will double by the year 2000—less than 40 years from now—are the cause for more long range thinking in Washington than any other one problem.

What this is taken to mean is that there will have to be twice as many jobs for people to work at, twice as many houses for them to live in, twice as much food for them to eat.

First effects of these coming changes are discernible in many of the programs which President Kennedy has presented to Congress for the promotion of economic growth, creation of full employment, help for depressed areas and reduction of the impact of periods of economic recession.

All these, however, are taken as short term measures to meet existing problems. Far greater in scope are problems of adjustment which may have to be solved to take care of the population growth in the next four decades.

THE TOTAL IMPACT of the changes which may have to be made are described by some planners as the equivalent to a revolution in American life which few people realize.

What is foreseen is the equivalent of a second industrial revolution, a technological revolution, an economic revolution, a revolution caused by growth.

The reasoning behind this is simply that the problems of 360 million people 40 years from now cannot be handled in the same ways that they were, say—during the Coolidge era of 40 years ago, when U. S. population was only 105 million, compared with today's 180 million.

U. S. Department of Agriculture experts anticipate there will be as much progress in farm technology in the years ahead as there hase been in the years behind.

There is no question that U. S. agriculture will be able to produce enough food for 360 million people. But the prediction is that it will be produced on fewer acres by fewer men using new machines and new methods.

A NEW DEPARTMENT OF LABOR research study indicates that technological advances off the farm — industrial automation, to use the ugly phrase for it—will result in a loss of 200,000 jobs a year over the next decade.

These are just two measures of expected evolution.

The revolutionary aspects of such progress come from a belief by far-sighted men that the bad effects of such changes can be corrected while they are happening.

The unskilled common laborer in America is therefore seen as in his way towards oblivion People will be educated and trained for jobs requiring higher skills. Second-class citizens will be seen as liabilities. Efforts will be made to convert them into economic assets, producing and consuming their share of the economy.

There is growing belief by economists that recessions in business and prolonged unemployment for labor are wasteful and unnecessary. Minor fluctuations may be inevitable in a free enterprise system, but their effects can be minimized to stabilize the economy.

This is the peaceful revolution that is foreseen.

Although a good mule may bring $56 there, wives are sold for as little as $45 in the African city of Timbuktu.

No matter how you measure the government's help — with cold statistics, in warm, human terms, or as a new dimension of dignity — the end result is an amazing phenomenon of recent years.

Today the U. S. coal miner is paid eight times as much per hour as the Japanese coal miner. But he produced 14 times as much coal. Labor cost per ton of coal in the U. S. is half that of Japan, and the United States exports coal to Japan . . . This shows the effect of higher labor productivity.

Veterans Rights and Benefits Listed

By: Charles L. Culver, NYS Veteran Counselor, NYS Division of Veterans Affairs, and John Tyler, director, Ulster County Veterans Service Agency, 32 Main Street, Kingston, New York.

Pension—A bill has been introduced in the United States House of Representatives which proposes to pay $102.37 a month to veterans of World War 1 under certain conditions. A movement is presently under way to file a petition to have this bill discharged from the House Veterans' Affairs Committee so that it can be brought to the floor of the House of Representatives for consideration.

Insurance—The increased premium rate at the attained age of a policyholder must be paid on a GI term policy when it is renewed automatically at the end of a current term period. The law providing for automatic renewal only eliminates the necessity of making a new application every five years to have the insurance continued.

Bonus—A number of inquiries are continually being made concerning a New York State bonus for Korean veterans. No Korean bonus legislation was enacted during the 1962 session of the New York State Legislation. Bonus legislation in NYS requires a constitutional amendment approved by two successive State Legislatures, after which it is submitted to the voters for their approval. There is no NYS Korean bonus now in effect, and due to constitutional processes, the earliest a bonus would most likely be paid in this state if enacted would be 1966.

Medical—A complete medical statement indicating findings, diagnosis and prognosis should be obtained by a veteran from a private physician to submit with his application for pension or as soon as possible after he makes such application. A complete medical statement may eliminate the need for a VA medical examination and thereby obtain much speedier action in the granting of the pension to the veteran at the earliest possible effective date. The VA can accept an adequate medical statement from a private physician and may use it to determine the rights of a veteran to disability pension without a verification examination, in those cases where a veteran is 65 years of age or over. The statement of a private physician may also be accepted for rating purposes in the pension claim of younger veterans if the medical statement includes findings of generally accepted diagnosis techniques and indicates a permanent total disability which precludes travel.

Social Security—Any disabled person with a long-standing disability who has not made application for Social Security benefits should do so before June 30, 1962. The start of a disability can only be dated back 18 months after June 30, 1962. This means that a parson may lose benefits for himself or his dependents if he waits until after June 30 to file for an existing disability.

Questions about the rights and benefits of veterans, servicemen or their dependents may be submitted for individual attention to Mr. Culver or Mr. Tyler, at their office at 32 Main Street, Kingston, N. Y. or by telephone Monday through Friday 9 to 5 — FE 8-1111.

Do You Remember by Sophie Miller

One of the tourist attractions of New York City is their Fifth Avenue and 42nd Street library. It was illustrated and written up in the May 31, 1962 New York World-Telegram which was sent to me by Captain Andrew Hickey, USN, ret.

Miss Townsend of our Kingston City Library and Port Ewen Library had been on the staff of that world famous library and no doubt could relate some interesting experiences. Some three million people use this library every year, and the Central Reference Library has some four million books in 3,000 languages and dialects. Some 60 per cent of its items are in foreign languages. The main reading room covers a half acre of ground and they have 80 miles of bookshelves.

When I was in New York I had a library card there, one had to have a Manhattan address, as there are neighborhood libraries all over the boroughs and they always seem to prefer you deal with a library which is nearest your home.

The Fifth Avenue Library made a perfect meeting place for you could look at magazines unseen and unheard of on book paperstands. You could read newspapers in the newspaper room, or get books on any subject and of course in any language, and compare them. Sometimes I would get so engrossed in something I was reading that when the one whom I was waiting for showed up I would hate to leave. You checked your packages there for free. In fact, you could check your packages in one entrance, go out the other entrance, and come back the same way and then pick up your packages all for free. They staff the most knowledgeable people in the world, and were wonderful to young students and out-of-towners like myself. No doubt Miss Townsend could tell much more about this from her point of view.

I have a book called Locomotive Catechism dated 1900 by Robert Grimshaw, ME, with many good illustrations on railroad engines, one being of the famous "999" which was then known as "Latest Engine on New York Central. Speed, 100 miles an hour." I understand they ran her between Batavia and Buffalo on a level run at 112 and a half miles in 1893. At the time she hauled the Empire State Express on this world record run. I have colored reprinted pictures of her and other engines from Argosy magazine. This famous "999" had been on exhibition right here in Kingston, on the Greenkill Avenue siding. They had exhibition of old railroad pictures in the station house. Perhaps some of the readers saw it also. It is sad to see that railroad house with the broken windows, that too could have made an excellent "tourist attraction" for old railroad items. I think it is not too far distant that railroad pictures and other items are going to draw tourist trade and money, and we who are or were the railroad center of this section cannot seem to see in the future.

As a marker in this book I found a pamphlet called "The Proposed Adjustment of Passenger Fare, Its Reasonableness and Justification", put out by New York Central Lines around 1915. One item reads: The cost of steam locomotive went up from $17,300 to $23,200;; electric locomotives (not in use 10 years ago) cost $50,000; standard steel passenger coaches, $16,000, as compared with $11,300 for wooden coaches; and wages went up 40 per cent in the 10 years. In speaking about our New York Central on the Hudson River they mention that in the past 12 years the roadbed have been practically rebuilt, with new bridges, 105 pound rails have taken the place of old 65 pound rails, and engines more powerful, steel cars replaced the wooden ones. Anyway remember the $2 round trip excursion trains to New York City from the Kingston station in 1930's?

The POWER of FAITH

by Howard Brodie

It seems to be in man's nature to seek understandable expression in the form of symbols for great religious concepts and experiences. Both the Old and the New Testament abound with religious symbolism: Satan represented by a serpent; Christ by a lamb; and other symbols—the cross, the star of David, the burning bush, the dove, tongues of fire.

Christians have found symbolic meaning in architecture, too. The pointed arches common to Gothic churches and the pointed steeple both recall hands raised in prayer.

The number of panels in doors and windows have meaning also—two panels to represent the old and new testaments, three for the Trinity, four for the evangelists.

All are suggestions of our deepest beliefs, our power of faith.

The POWER of FAITH

by Howard Brodie

It seems to be in man's nature to seek understandable expression in the form of symbols for great religious concepts and experiences. Both the Old and the New Testament abound with religious symbolism: Satan represented by a serpent; Christ by a lamb; and other symbols—the cross, the star of David, the burning bush, the dove, tongues of fire.

Christians have found symbolic meaning in architecture, too. The pointed arches common to Gothic churches and the pointed steeple both recall hands raised in prayer.

The number of panels in doors and windows have meaning also—two panels to represent the old and new testaments, three for the Trinity, four for the evangelists.

All are suggestions of our deepest beliefs, our power of faith.

Says Methodists Must Gain New City Membership

Speaking at the annual meeting o the church's Genesee Conference here, the Rev Mr. Ramsden said that recent studies in Buffalo revealed a decline in membership in the city and an increase in the suburbs.

"Methodist district must decide what the church should do in the city, what are the needs of the people, how the church resources may be brought together to meet the needs," he said.

Area Broadcaster Tells Commission Of Inexperience

WASHINGTON (AP)—The manager of a radio station proposed by Rockland Broadcasters, Inc., for Rockland County, N.Y., said Friday he has had virtually no experience in the broadcast field. The witness, Mario Perillo, said at a Federal Communications Commission hearing that he enrolled last March in a school for radio announcing, programming and production.

Perillo, explaining the reason for his enrollment, said:

"My knowledge of what goes on in a radio station is practically zero."

Two other firms are seeking a permit for a station in the area: Rockland Broadcasting Co., Blauvelt, N.Y., and Rockland Radio Corp., Spring Valley, N.Y.

Rockland Broadcasters' main studio would be in Spring Valley but, Perillo said, an auxiliary studio would be set up at Pearl River.

Perillo, a lawyer, testified that the only experience he has in the radio field has been the writing of commercials for a travel agency with which he is associated.

Perillo said his salary as station manager would be $150 weekly. He added he would give up his legal practice to take over the job.

Friday's session ended the first round of hearings in the case. Additional hearing will be scheduled later to consider engineering problems involved in the applications.

Says Methodists Must Gain New City Membership

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — The Methodist Church must embark on a program to increase its membership in the cities, the research associate of the Buffalo Methodist district, says.

The Rev. William E. Ramsden Jr., said Friday the church also must develop programs to gain contact with people who are not members.

Speaking at the annual meeting o the church's Genesee Conference here, the Rev Mr. Ramsden said that recent studies in Buffalo revealed a decline in membership in the city and an increase in the suburbs.

"Methodist district must decide what the church should do in the city, what are the needs of the people, how the church resources may be brought together to meet the needs," he said.

Additional responsibilities should be assigned to church laymen, he added.

Area Broadcaster Tells Commission Of Inexperience

WASHINGTON (AP)—The manager of a radio station proposed by Rockland Broadcasters, Inc., for Rockland County, N.Y., said Friday he has had virtually no experience in the broadcast field. The witness, Mario Perillo, said at a Federal Communications Commission hearing that he enrolled last March in a school for radio announcing, programming and production.

Perillo said his salary as station manager would be $150 weekly. He added he would give up his legal practice to take over the job.

Friday's session ended the first round of hearings in the case. Additional hearing will be scheduled later to consider engineering problems involved in the applications.

DINNER GUESTS ON A DIET

Q: Please write a word about diet pests. Recently I went to a very nice dinner party which was all but ruined for the poor hostess because more than half of the food went back to the kitchen uneaten. It is really a problem when one must diet, but when I have had to do this, I've stayed away from parties or else explained to my hostess that I couldn't eat but would like to come anyway. But these calorie-counters who accept invitations to dinner parties and then refuse to eat are, in my opinion, utterly lacking in good manners and I think you'd be doing defenseless hostesses a good turn by writing of this behavior in your column.

A: They are not utterly lacking in good manners, but probably unconscious of the distress their not eating causes the hostess. I do agree with you that they should not accept dinner invitations or at least explain to the hostess that they would love to come and enjoy the company if she will let them sit at the table without eating.

Husband and Wife Graduating Together

Q: My husband and I are graduating from college together. We have been wondering what to do about announcements. Should we send separate announcements, which would mean sending two to most relatives, or should we enclose a Mr. and Mrs. card?

A: It would be better to send each of your cards in one announcement rather than a Mr. and Mrs. card.

Adopted Son to Be Jr.

Q: Is it improper to name an adopted son Jr. for his father (my husband)? We had thought adopting him legally made him the same as our own and that therefore we could do this. A friend told me it was wrong.

A: It will be unusual, but you may properly give him your husband's identical name, adding Jr. to separate his name from that of his "father."

Phyllis W. Barlow, county home demonstration agent of the Ulster County Extension Service Association, submits the following article on summer storage and winter wear:

If you have ever found a hole in your favorite skirt or the lapel of your husband's best suit, nobody needs to tell you of the importance of controlling fabric pests. Now that spring is here and you're thinking of storing your winter clothing, it's time to guard against future clothing catastrophies.

You've probably always laid all the blame on clothes moths. No so well known, but just as destructive to fabrics, are carpet beetles or "buffalo moths."

What They Look Like

Two species of clothes moths and four species of carpet beetles commonly infest homes. The webbing clothes moth and the casemaking clothes moth look much alike. The full grown larvae are about ½ inch long, and are practically hairless; they are white, except for the dark heads. The adult moths are yellowish or buff, and have a wing spread of about ½ inch.

The larvae of the carpet beetle, the furniture carpet beetle, and the varied carpet beetle are elongate-oval in shape, are never more than ¼ inch long, and have brownish or black bristles that give them a fuzzy appearance. The full-grown larvae change into small beetles mottled with white, yellow, brown or black. The black carpet beetle larvae are yellowish, golden or dark brown; they may get to be ½ inch long; the slender bodies are tapered from the head to the end of the body, where there is a tuft of long brown hairs. The adult beetles have solid black bodies and brownish legs.

Clothes moths and carpet beetles pass through four stages of development. It is the larvae (which feed on wool, mohair, hair, bristles, fur, feathers and down) which do the damage to clothing and home furnishings.

Protective Measures

Washable woolens are protected from insect damage when washed and rinsed in water containing a few spoonsful of EQ-53, which is sold under various trade names. EQ-53 contains DDT, a solvent and an emulsifying agent. It is especially useful in the spring when woolens are being prepared for summer storage, but it may be used any time. Follow manufacturer's directions carefully.

You may also find DDT oil solutions, flouride solutions, paradichlorobenzene, napthalene and aerosol sprays on the market. In all cases it is most important to follow label instructions explicitly for satisfactory and effective results.

Precautions

Most insecticides are poisonous to people and to animals. Keep insecticides where children and pets cannot reach them. When applying them, do not contaminate food, dishes or kitchen utensils. Do not store them with food. Do not breathe too much spray mist or dust.

Suppers

St. Paul's Church

A ham and strawberry shortcake supper will be held at St. Paul's Lutheran Church, 355 Hasbrouck Avenue, Wednesday sponsored by the Ladies Aid of the church. Serving will start 5:30 p. m.

Phyllis W. Barlow, county home demonstration agent of the Ulster County Extension Service Association, submits the following article on summer storage and winter wear:

If you have ever found a hole in your favorite skirt or the lapel of your husband's best suit, nobody needs to tell you of the importance of controlling fabric pests. Now that spring is here and you're thinking of storing your winter clothing, it's time to guard against future clothing catastrophies.

You've probably always laid all the blame on clothes moths. No so well known, but just as destructive to fabrics, are carpet beetles or "buffalo moths."

What They Look Like

Two species of clothes moths and four species of carpet beetles commonly infest homes. The webbing clothes moth and the casemaking clothes moth look much alike. The full grown larvae are about ½ inch long, and are practically hairless; they are white, except for the dark heads. The adult moths are yellowish or buff, and have a wing spread of about ½ inch.

The larvae of the carpet beetle, the furniture carpet beetle, and the varied carpet beetle are elongate-oval in shape, are never more than ¼ inch long, and have brownish or black bristles that give them a fuzzy appearance. The full-grown larvae change into small beetles mottled with white, yellow, brown or black. The black carpet beetle larvae are yellowish, golden or dark brown; they may get to be ½ inch long; the slender bodies are tapered from the head to the end of the body, where there is a tuft of long brown hairs. The adult beetles have solid black bodies and brownish legs.

Clothes moths and carpet beetles pass through four stages of development. It is the larvae (which feed on wool, mohair, hair, bristles, fur, feathers and down) which do the damage to clothing and home furnishings.

Protective Measures

Washable woolens are protected from insect damage when washed and rinsed in water containing a few spoonsful of EQ-53, which is sold under various trade names. EQ-53 contains DDT, a solvent and an emulsifying agent. It is especially useful in the spring when woolens are being prepared for summer storage, but it may be used any time. Follow manufacturer's directions carefully.

You may also find DDT oil solutions, flouride solutions, paradichlorobenzene, napthalene and aerosol sprays on the market. In all cases it is most important to follow label instructions explicitly for satisfactory and effective results.

Precautions

Most insecticides are poisonous to people and to animals. Keep insecticides where children and pets cannot reach them. When applying them, do not contaminate food, dishes or kitchen utensils. Do not store them with food. Do not breathe too much spray mist or dust.

Army Celebrates 187th Birthday Thursday, June 14

The U. S. Army will celebrate its 187th birthday on June 14, according to Sgt. 1/cl Edward Malenski, local Army recruiter.

Today's modern, mobile army, equipped with atomic capabilities, is a far cry from the body of first citizen soldiers called to duty in 1775.

The resolution of the Continental Congress dated that year dictated that six companies of expert riflemen be immediately raised in Pennsylvania, two in Maryland and two in Virginia. Each company was to consist of a captain, three lieutenants, four sergeants, four corporals, a drummer or trumpeter and 68 privates.

"Each company, as soon as completed shall march and join the army near Boston to be there employed as light infantry," the resolution reads.

Soldiers of the revolutionary period were required to supply their own arms and clothes. The congress' resolution also set the monthly pay scale for the new fighting organization.

It reads as follows: Captains, $20; lieutenants, $13.33; sergeants, $8; corporals and drummers or trumpeters, $7.33 and privates, $6.67.

Parental Performance

NEW YORK (AP) — James Mitchell cut short his vacation from Broadway for a special reason.

Mitchell's parents, who live in California, arrived for a brief holiday of their own while he was having a week's rest from his role of magician in the musical "Carnival." So they could catch him onstage, Mitchell went back to work on his Saturday off—and did both matinee and evening performances.

Army Celebrates 187th Birthday Thursday, June 14

The U. S. Army will celebrate its 187th birthday on June 14, according to Sgt. 1/cl Edward Malenski, local Army recruiter.

Today's modern, mobile army, equipped with atomic capabilities, is a far cry from the body of first citizen soldiers called to duty in 1775.

The resolution of the Continental Congress dated that year dictated that six companies of expert riflemen be immediately raised in Pennsylvania, two in Maryland and two in Virginia. Each company was to consist of a captain, three lieutenants, four sergeants, four corporals, a drummer or trumpeter and 68 privates.

"Each company, as soon as completed shall march and join the army near Boston to be there employed as light infantry," the resolution reads.

Soldiers of the revolutionary period were required to supply their own arms and clothes. The congress' resolution also set the monthly pay scale for the new fighting organization.

It reads as follows: Captains, $20; lieutenants, $13.33; sergeants, $8; corporals and drummers or trumpeters, $7.33 and privates, $6.67.

Mike's Alertness Saves His Home

Mike Brewster liked his new home on Lake Sparkle. It was big, with plenty of land around it and an old fashioned walled garden.

The family had lived on the other side of the lake, four miles away, and would have been there still, but for the cheap noisy resort that had sprung up over there.

The beautiful lake beach had been ruined by crowds of noisy people who came out for a day's trip. They left broken bottles and garbage all over when they went home.

This side of the lake was still lovely and unspoiled, with homes for people who cared about them. But now the same promoters who had built the other resort were trying to get Mike's father and neighbors to sell them their properties on this side. The neighbors had a meeting about it.

"We must keep our eyes open to see those promoters don't pull anything over here," Mr. Bronson, a leading citizen, said. "And that highway to it is full of buses and gas tanks and trucks all day long. Luckily it's four miles away."

Mike decided he would keep his eyes open, too. He loved his home with its old walled garden, which he liked to explore.

Across one corner of the garden wall, lilac bushes had grown. Was there any space behind them? Mike crept along the wall and found a nice grassy triangle, with a small bench, back there.

"That bench must have been forgotten for years, when the bushes grew higher and spread out," his mother said. "You found it, son. It's your secret place. We won't tell anyone."

After that, Mike often took a book out to his hidden bench. No one could see him there, but by parting the branches softly he could peek through.

One warm afternoon when he was there he heard men's voices. Two men were walking right across the garden. One was the resort promoter.

"Here's the place for the new road, Saunders," he was saying. "The highway will come right through here, then around the lake. We'll have to work fast, before the news gets out. Once this land is condemned for the new highway, these stubborn natives will be glad enough to sell their properties. And the new resort can start building."

"Seems a pity!" Saunders said. "This lovely old garden ruined, and the other places, too! You know no new highway is really needed here. Certainly another second rate resort isn't."

"Progress, man! Progress!" the promoter grinned, "and profits! Come on down to the lake!"

Mike hardly dared breathe till the men had gone. Then he ran to the house and told his mother. She called his father, who, in turn, called the neighbors. That evening there was another meeting at Mike's house.

"Those promoters want to spoil this side of the lake, too, just to make money," Mr. Brewster said grimly.

"Well, they won't do it!" Mr. Bronson declared. "We'll get in touch with the Bureau of Roads."

"And my cousin is Superintendent of Highways," another neighbor said. "We'll bring him here."

They did, and when these important persons saw the lovely old homes, and talked to their owners, he agreed with them. "No new highway is needed here," he stated, "and no get-rich-quick scheme will put one here. I'll see to that. Good thing you found out about it and got the news to us in time. They tell me it was your boy who heard the news first, Mrs. Brewster. How?"

Mike looked at his mother imploringly. She was the only one who knew about his hidden bench.

She smiled at him. "Oh, it's surprising what a boy who keeps his eyes and ears open can see and hear," she said.

Caring for Sports Equipment Is the Key to Summertime Fun

You won't be driven batty over battered balls, rickety rackets and skidless skis if you take proper care of your sports equipment.

• ARCHERY: Clean the shafts of wooden arrows with steel wool, and then wax. Rub metal points with oil to prevent rusting. When storing arrows take care that the feathers do not touch. Protect finish of bow with wax.

Occasionally wash the grip with soap and water. Oil leather grip occasionally to prevent drying and cracking. To prevent metal bows from rusting, wipe dry and oil. When not in use bows should be unstrung.

• BADMINTON: Keep rackets in cool, dry place. Take net in during bad weather. When not in use, loosen the net. Repair holes or tears immediately with string or strong thread.

Never brush the bird along the floor with the racket. Smooth its feathers occasionally during the game. Store in upright position, with base down.

• BASEBALL: Ball should be kept dry and clean. Clean with damp cloth, using soap and water if there is an accumulation of grease and oil. Never use cleaning solvents. Mend a broken stitch immediately. When varnish wears off bat, smooth any rough spots and refinish with coat of spar varnish. Never hit stones or pebbles with bat.

Keep glove in cool, dry place. If it becomes wet, dry immediately at normal room temperature. If glove becomes hard and rough, apply thin coat of vegetable or mineral oil. Clean soiled glove with saddle soap. Apply this with cloth moistened with cool water. Rub leather until dirt is loosened. Wipe off dirt with clean cloth, then rub glove briskly with your hand or a cloth to restore gloss.

• PING PONG: When not in use, loosen the net. Restore dented balls by dropping them in boiling water and turning over a few times.

• SKATES: Keep them sharp and free from rust. Wipe blades dry when skating session is over. When storing skates for summer, clean blades and metal fastenings on shoes with paste wax, and oil the leather portions with leather oil.

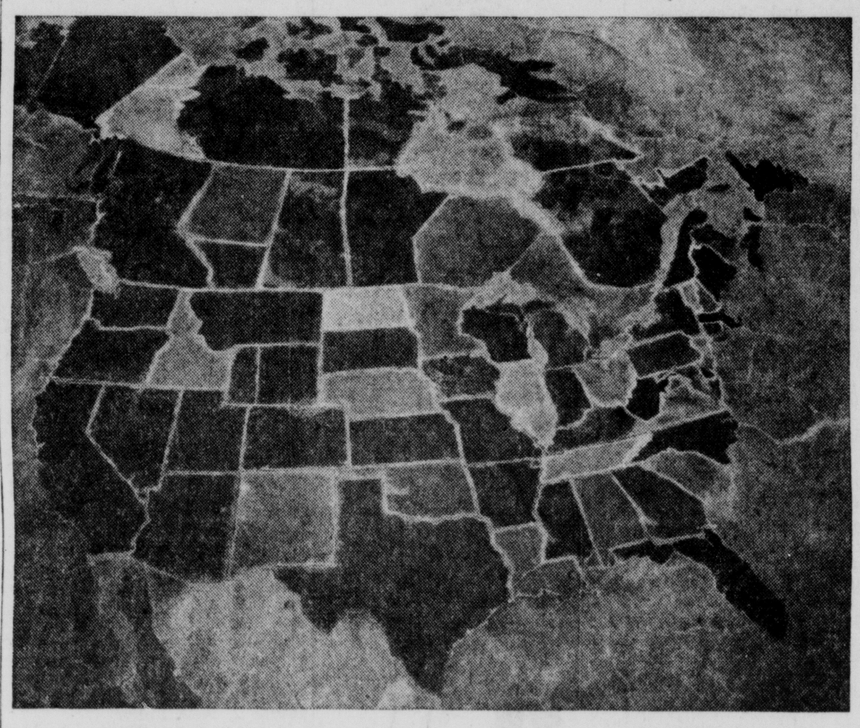

• SKIS: If tops are worn or scratched, rejuvenate with new coat of varnish. First, clean off all old wax with turpentine or cleaning solvent. Sand skis with fine sandpaper, then varnish. Place skis in racks and store in dark, well-ventilated place.

• TENNIS: If balls become damp during a game replace them immediately with dry balls. Always dry balls and brush off dirt before putting them away. A racket's enemy is dampness, so always lay racket on a dry, level surface. When not in use keep in waterproof case, or wrap in newspapers.

Before storing, wipe off wooden grip and frame with cloth dampened with a mild soap and water solution. Take care not to wet strings. Wipe strings and wood with dry cloth. A coating of petroleum jelly on strings will prevent their snapping while in storage. Put racket in press and store in cool, dry place.

Park Has Giant Slate Map Today Because of Back Yard Project

Similar patterned back yard map inspired this mosaic slate map in Stanley Park, Westfield, Mass.

Henry C. Avery of Upper Beverly Hills, West Springfield, Mass., goes in for maps. Not maps that you can put in your inside coat pocket. His interest is mosaic slate maps for boys and girls. These maps measure many feet.

He retired from business a number of years ago. The days seemed long because he had little to do. He then thought of changing his large back yard into a wonderland rock garden with a mosaic slate map for his back yard porch. It took him many months to accomplish this.

Mothers and fathers with their children visited his place. The boys and girls especially were excited about the map. They could hop from one town to another.

Officials of the Stanley Park at Westfield saw the map. They asked Mr. Avery if he would build one for their park. They said that it would be in front of the park's 96-foot high Carillon Tower.

Westfield is just a few miles from West Springfield. Mr. Avery was born and raised there. His answer to the request for a map for the park was "yes." He expressed happiness that he could make this contribution to his birthplace.

He began making plans for the map in the early part of 1950. It would be laid out on a 22 by 30-foot concrete slab. The Carillon Tower would represent the North Pole.

The mosaic slate map consists of the North American continent without Mexico. It has a border of ocean green cement.

The visitors to Stanley Park make a beeline to the map. They always want to locate their home state or some point on it and compare relative distances.

Groups of school children have been brought to it to study it so that they could check out their understanding of geography. Some for the first time fully realize the location of their own state in relation to the others.

Pianos on Parade

You would certainly be surprised to look out the window and see a piano on a wagon or cart leading a parade and wonder what it was all about.

If you had lived during the days when pianos were first made, this would not have been such a surprise. In those days a piano was very important, and it was considered a wonderful piece of workmanship.

When a piano was delivered to the home of a person who had bought it this was the time for a great celebration. The instrument in a wagon or cart really led the people through the streets of the town.

When the parade arrived at the home of the person who had bought the piano, the mayor and other officials made speeches. Sometimes the piano was blessed by a minister or priest. This was followed by singing and a feast, which was followed by dancing and merrymaking.

The man who made the piano was not forgotten, he was considered a hero and was honored with speeches and praise. So from all this we can see that in days long ago when a piano was bought it was meant to bring joy and beauty to a home.

Corsage Centerpiece

For your next party try this novel idea for a centerpiece. Buy a bouquet of inexpensive flowers at the dime store. Trim off each blossom, wind thread around the stem and tie a small bow of ribbon on each. Then attach a small safety pin.

Select a pretty bowl to heap your flowers in and place in the center of the table. At refreshment time each guest takes one of the corsages and pins it to her dress.

This idea adds much to the beauty of your table setting and helps to make any party a very gay affair.

Visiting Posse'

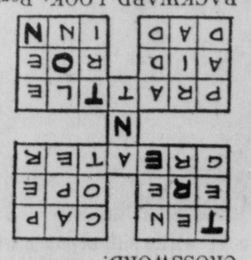

By Kay Cammer

My pony saddle is at my side;
I've planned a dozen schemes;
Now I'm going to sleep and capture
The outlaw in my dreams.
Last night my faithful partner
Discovered his hidden trail,
But my horse and I were all alone;
Reason enough to fail.
This time the plans are better;
Zero hour is 10 ——
Mom said the posse' could visit;
We'll have to find that dream again.

Caring for Sports Equipment Is the Key to Summertime Fun

You won't be driven batty over battered balls, rickety rackets and skidless skis if you take proper care of your sports equipment.

• ARCHERY: Clean the shafts of wooden arrows with steel wool, and then wax. Rub metal points with oil to prevent rusting. When storing arrows take care that the feathers do not touch. Protect finish of bow with wax.

Occasionally wash the grip with soap and water. Oil leather grip occasionally to prevent drying and cracking. To prevent metal bows from rusting, wipe dry and oil. When not in use bows should be unstrung.

• BADMINTON: Keep rackets in cool, dry place. Take net in during bad weather. When not in use, loosen the net. Repair holes or tears immediately with string or strong thread.

Never brush the bird along the floor with the racket. Smooth its feathers occasionally during the game. Store in upright position, with base down.

• BASEBALL: Ball should be kept dry and clean. Clean with damp cloth, using soap and water if there is an accumulation of grease and oil. Never use cleaning solvents. Mend a broken stitch immediately. When varnish wears off bat, smooth any rough spots and refinish with coat of spar varnish. Never hit stones or pebbles with bat.

Keep glove in cool, dry place. If it becomes wet, dry immediately at normal room temperature. If glove becomes hard and rough, apply thin coat of vegetable or mineral oil. Clean soiled glove with saddle soap. Apply this with cloth moistened with cool water. Rub leather until dirt is loosened. Wipe off dirt with clean cloth, then rub glove briskly with your hand or a cloth to restore gloss.

• PING PONG: When not in use, loosen the net. Restore dented balls by dropping them in boiling water and turning over a few times.

• SKATES: Keep them sharp and free from rust. Wipe blades dry when skating session is over. When storing skates for summer, clean blades and metal fastenings on shoes with paste wax, and oil the leather portions with leather oil.

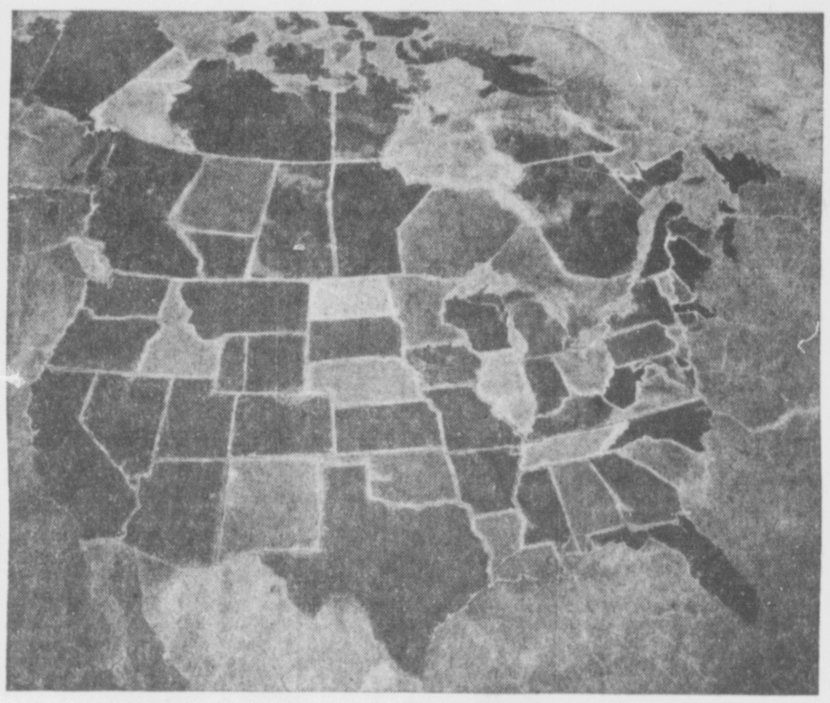

• SKIS: If tops are worn or scratched, rejuvenate with new coat of varnish. First, clean off all old wax with turpentine or cleaning solvent. Sand skis with fine sandpaper, then varnish. Place skis in racks and store in dark, well-ventilated place.

• TENNIS: If balls become damp during a game replace them immediately with dry balls. Always dry balls and brush off dirt before putting them away. A racket's enemy is dampness, so always lay racket on a dry, level surface. When not in use keep in waterproof case, or wrap in newspapers.

Before storing, wipe off wooden grip and frame with cloth dampened with a mild soap and water solution. Take care not to wet strings. Wipe strings and wood with dry cloth. A coating of petroleum jelly on strings will prevent their snapping while in storage. Put racket in press and store in cool, dry place.

Park Has Giant Slate Map Today Because of Back Yard Project

Similar patterned back yard map inspired this mosaic slate map in Stanley Park, Westfield, Mass.

Henry C. Avery of Upper Beverly Hills, West Springfield, Mass., goes in for maps. Not maps that you can put in your inside coat pocket. His interest is mosaic slate maps for boys and girls. These maps measure many feet.

He retired from business a number of years ago. The days seemed long because he had little to do. He then thought of changing his large back yard into a wonderland rock garden with a mosaic slate map for his back yard porch. It took him many months to accomplish this.

Mothers and fathers with their children visited his place. The boys and girls especially were excited about the map. They could hop from one town to another.

Officials of the Stanley Park at Westfield saw the map. They asked Mr. Avery if he would build one for their park. They said that it would be in front of the park's 96-foot high Carillon Tower.

Westfield is just a few miles from West Springfield. Mr. Avery was born and raised there. His answer to the request for a map for the park was "yes." He expressed happiness that he could make this contribution to his birthplace.

He began making plans for the map in the early part of 1950. It would be laid out on a 22 by 30-foot concrete slab. The Carillon Tower would represent the North Pole.

The mosaic slate map consists of the North American continent without Mexico. It has a border of ocean green cement.

The visitors to Stanley Park make a beeline to the map. They always want to locate their home state or some point on it and compare relative distances.

Groups of school children have been brought to it to study it so that they could check out their understanding of geography. Some for the first time fully realize the location of their own state in relation to the others.

Pianos on Parade

You would certainly be surprised to look out the window and see a piano on a wagon or cart leading a parade and wonder what it was all about.

If you had lived during the days when pianos were first made, this would not have been such a surprise. In those days a piano was very important, and it was considered a wonderful piece of workmanship.

When a piano was delivered to the home of a person who had bought it this was the time for a great celebration. The instrument in a wagon or cart really led the people through the streets of the town.

When the parade arrived at the home of the person who had bought the piano, the mayor and other officials made speeches. Sometimes the piano was blessed by a minister or priest. This was followed by singing and a feast, which was followed by dancing and merrymaking.

The man who made the piano was not forgotten, he was considered a hero and was honored with speeches and praise. So from all this we can see that in days long ago when a piano was bought it was meant to bring joy and beauty to a home.

ZOO'S WHO by GEORGE SCARBO

Corsage Centerpiece

For your next party try this novel idea for a centerpiece. Buy a bouquet of inexpensive flowers at the dime store. Trim off each blossom, wind thread around the stem and tie a small bow of ribbon on each. Then attach a small safety pin.

Select a pretty bowl to heap your flowers in and place in the center of the table. At refreshment time each guest takes one of the corsages and pins it to her dress.

This idea adds much to the beauty of your table setting and helps to make any party a very gay affair.

Visiting Posse'

By Kay Cammer

My pony saddle is at my side;
I've planned a dozen schemes;
Now I'm going to sleep and capture
The outlaw in my dreams.
Last night my faithful partner
Discovered his hidden trail,
But my horse and I were all alone;
Reason enough to fail.
This time the plans are better;
Zero hour is 10 ——
Mom said the posse' could visit;
We'll have to find that dream again.

YanksGet3rdStraightShutout; Wills' Speed Puts LA on Top

Ford, Coates Combine to Stop Orioles, 1-0

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

First it was Ralph Terry. Then it was Bill Stafford. Now it's Jim Coates. And in the last three games the New York Yankees' problem-plagued pitching staff has allowed a grand total of eight hits and no runs.

Coates added to the string Friday night, taking over when ace left-hander Whitey Ford was forced out with shoulder pains after the first inning and permitting only one hit the rest of the way as the Yankees blanked Baltimore 1-0.

It was the third consecutive shutout for the Yankee mound crew, weakened by the absence of relief specialist Luis Arroyo and Ford's inability to post a victory since May 9.

Ford gave up one hit, making it a two-hitter for the Ford-Coates combination and extending the scoreless innings streak to 28 1-3.

Lead At One Game

The latest victory kept the Yankees' American League lead at one game over the Minnesota Twins, who edged the Chicago White Sox 2-1. Third-place Cleveland belted Boston 15-9 with a six-run uprising in the 13th inning and remained two games off the pace.

The Los Angeles Angels got a two-hit pitching performance from newly-acquired Don Lee and defeated Kansas City 7-1, and Detroit and Washington split a doubleheader. The Tigers took the first 7-6 in 10 innings, then were shut out 1-0 on six hits by Dave Stenhouse.

Held to two hits by Chuck Estrada for seven innings, the Yankees cut loose against reliever Hoyt Wilhelm (2-4) when Estrada was forced to leave in the eighth with a pulled elbow muscle. Singles by Tom Tresh, Coates and Bobby Richardson accounted for the game's lone run.

Breaks Up Duel

Don Mincher broke up a pitching duel between the Twins' Jack Kralick (5-4) and John Buzhardt (6-5) of the White Sox when he lined a single in the last of the eighth, driving in Lenny Green with the deciding run.

Ed Bressoud's two-out homer for the Red Sox in the last of the ninth tied it, but the Indians wound up winning it big when Willie Kirkland's two-run homer started a six-run 13th inning out-burst that put it away. Kirkland drove in four runs and was joined by Woodie Held and Tito Francona in the homer department. Wynn Hawkins 1-0 won it with Hal Kolstad 0-1 the loser.

Lee 4-3, was making his first appearance for the Angels since they acquired him in a trade with Minnesota. Lee Thomas led an 11-hit Los Angeles attack with three hits, and three runs batted in, three on a seventh inning homer. Bob Rakow 4-6 was the loser.

The Tigers scored the tying run in the opener on Chuck Cottier's error, then won it in the 10th for Ron Nischwitz 2-0 on Rocky Colavito's sacrifice Fly. Carl Bouldin 0-1 was the loser. Stenhouse 4-1 became the first pitcher to shut out the Tigers this season when he turned in his six-hitter in the nightcap.

Dodgers Nip Houston, 4-3; Mets Split Pair

By JIM HACKLEMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Who says you can't steal first?

The Los Angeles Dodgers did it Friday night, snatching first place in the National League on the base stealing of mercurial Maury Wills. The swift shortstop ran the Dodgers to a 4-3 victory over the Houston Colts when he walked in the 13th inning, swiped two bases, then scored the winning run on a short sacrifice fly. The steals were the 31st and 32nd for Wills this season.

By winning, the Dodgers took a half-game edge over the San Francisco Giants, who were trounced by the St. Louis Cardinals 8-4. It was the third setback in a row for the Giants and the fourth straight victory for the Cards, on the rebound after a string of eight defeats.

Philadelphia beat Cincinnati's slumping Reds 10-3, and the New York Mets snapped their losing streak at 17, trimming the Chicago Cubs 4-3 in the opener of a doubleheader. The Cubs won 3-2 in the second game, called in the eight inning because of darkness. Rain washed out the Pittsburgh-Braves game at Milwaukee.

Steals Two Bases

Wills drew a walk off reliever Don McMahon leading off the Dodger 13th at Houston, stole second and third, then sprinted home on Willie Davis' fly to center. Larry Sherry held off the stubborn Colts in the last of the inning and was the winner with 4 1-3 scoreless innings of relief.

Ken Johnson went the first nine for Houston, giving up two runs in the second on Ron Fairly's triple, Wally Moon's double and John Roseboro's single, and a pinch hit homer by Frank Howard that tied it at 3-3 in the eighth. Bob Aspromonte singled home a Colt run in the fourth against Sandy Koufax, and they went ahead in the sixth with walks off Koufax and Ed Roebuck, a wild pitch and Merritt Ranew's two-run single.

Sherry bailed Ron Perranoski out of a bases-loaded jam in the ninth by striking out Carl Warwick, then put down the Colts the rest of the way.

Ken Boyer and Bill White led a 14-hit barrage and Lindy McDaniel turned in a perfect relief stint as the Cards rolled over the Giants, who find themselves out of first place for the first time since April 30. Boyer climaxed a decisive four-run uprising in the fifth against Juan Marichal by homering with one on and also had a single. White knocked in three runs with a homer and two singles.

Mays Hits 20th

McDaniel replaced winner Bob Gibson with two on and one out in the seventh and the score 6-4, retired Willie Mays and Willie McCovey, then put away six more Giants in a row. Mays socked his 20th homer with a man on in the third, and McCovey followed with his eighth homer.

Dennis Bennett's four-hit pitching and the Phils' five-run fifth inning pushed the Reds to their fifth straight loss. Bennett chipped in with a two-run single during the fifth as the Phils piled up a 7-0 lead against loser Johnny Klippstein and reliever Moe Drabowsky. Roy Sievers knocked in three Philadelphia runs with a double and single, while Tony Taylor and Dom Demeter added homers.

The Mets ended their long famine and made it 4-for-4 against the Cubs in the ninth inning of the opener at Chicago when Charlie Neal sent in the winning run with a bases-loaded sacrifice fly. Jay Hook was the winner and Glen Hobbie lost his seventh in eight decisions.

Ron Santo, who had a two-run homer in the first game, decided the second when he singled across two runs in the seventh, breaking a 1-1 tie. Met starter Bob Miller, now 0-4, held the Cubs to two hits until they mounted their rally in the seventh.

Moyer Favored To Beat Wright

NEW YORK (AP) — On the theory that Denny Moyer can beat his older brother, Phil, Detroit's Teddy Wright is the underdog in tonight's boxing match at Madison Square Garden.

Unclear?

Well, Wright beat Phil Moyer, May 26 on an unanimous decision. Phil, 23, was subbing for 22-year-old Denny who had an infected left ear. Now that Denny is well he is a 8-5 favorite to beat Wright. As no state permits brothers to fight brothers, the family decision would seem to go to Denny on cumulative scores.

Three wild pitches and three errors contributed to the rally.

Ken Gilligan was the winner in relief. Larry Wonderly and Gilligan rapped singles for the winners.

The line score:

Nevele Racing Stable Doing Well in Initial Full Season

ELLENVILLE, N. Y. — How closely related is the hotel and harness racing business,

In the case of the famed Nevele Country Club of Ellenville, N. Y., the bond is a tight one.

The fashionable resort center located in the heart of the Catskill Mountain summer vacationland has gone "horsey" in a big way. But only to the extent that involves the doings at the raceways.

The history of the Nevele and its relationship with horses is short but quite intetresting. The Nevele Acres Stable was started last summer. And probably its birth established a precedent for hotelmen invading the trotting business. Most certainly it is a "first" among the 300 or more hotel owners in this playground region.

Appropriately enough, the first horse ever to race under the Nevele banner broke in at Monticello Raceway, the booming young track that is short driving distance from the hotel. Duke of Alla was the first Nevele horse purchased. It wound up winning the Monticello Raceway trotting championship for three-year-olds. The horse's name was changed to Nevele Duke upon purchase.

Right afterwards, the Nevele made its first pacing transaction. It bought star three-year-old Meadow Vision and changed its name to Nevele Meadow. It went on to cop the pacing title for its age class.

The Nevele stable was really on its way now. However, the season was in its late stages and little more racing was done.

Bill Popfinger Gets Job

The stable went south for the winter. Ex-GI Bill Popfinger of Wexford, Pa., was handed the job of training the string exclusively. He had his work cut out because most of the horses were young and untested.

However, the hard work began paying off and quickly. The first stop on the spring circuit was Buffalo Raceway. Almost immediately, the Nevele became synonymous with winning stables. Popfinger, naturally, rose in stature in the driving race. When he left Buffalo for the opening of Monticello on May 31, the handsome blond reinsman was second in dashes won.

The Nevele stable is based at Monticello for the summer. The dozen or more horses are quartered in Barn "A" at the threshold of the barn area. The barn is decked out in green and white with an awning printed "Nevele Acres Stable."

It goes without saying that every horse in the barn has its name painted on the stall door for quick identification. And it also isn't any surprise for a first-time visitor to notice right away that every horse has the Nevele first name.

The whole thing is new to the Nevele owners. It's a big challenge. But they are optimistic. What more can be said?

Belmont Stakes Is Wide Open

NEW YORK (AP)—The horse who catches Jaipur will win the Belmont Stakes.

That was the general observation today as a field of eight 3-year-olds lined up for the 94th running of the great 1½ mile gallop, which has been producing champions since it was inaugurated at Old Jerome Park in the Bronx in 1867. Since 1905 it has been run at Belmont Park on Long Island.

Admiral's Voyage, owned by Fred W. Hooper and placed second in the Jersey Derby, Frank E. Power's Vimy Ridge, Louis Wolfson's David K., and Maurice Newton's Folk Dancer, a surprising last-minute entry, make up the field for the most open Belmont in memory.

Yesterday's Stars

Pitching—Jim Coates, Yankees, came on in relief in second inning when Whitey Ford had to leave with shoulder pains and allowed only a single the rest of the way to blank Baltimore 1-0 and register New York's third consecutive shutout.

Batting — Willie Kirkland, Indians, hitting .189 going into the game, drove in four runs, the last two with a homer in the 13th that started a six-run rally for a 15-9 victory over Boston.

Tie Silk Wins Debut At Monticello Track

MONTICELLO, NEW YORK—Tie Silk, making its first start of the season, won Friday's $3,000 Class AA/A Handicap Trot by a length in 2:04 3/5 at Monticello Raceway.

Third on the outside as the small five-horse field straightened out for home, Tie Silk overtook pace-setting Penny Shenandoah to win handily for Keith Waples and The Miron Brothers of Quebec.

The overwhelming favorite in the betting, Tie Silk paid $3.50, $3.10 and $3.10. Penny Shenandoah returned $4.90 and $4.10 and Ramire, another three quarters of a length behind, $3.40 for show.

Penny Shenandoah took the field to the quarter in 29.4 and carved out a 1:00 3/5 half. Still on top at the three quarters in 1:32 2/5, Penny Shenandoah began to feel the effects of the blistering pace.

Mr. Midnight was fourth and Rodman last in the mile dash. Three scratches cut the field to five from the original eight.

Snead's 136 Leads Golf Tourney

CLIFTON, N.J. (AP) — For once, Sam Snead wasn't complaining about his putting — he couldn't very well.

But he must have thrown a few apprehensive glances over his shoulder long after leaving the Upper Montclair Country Club, where he posted a second round 66 and a 136 total for the 36-hole lead in the $100,000 Classic Golf Tournament.

Snead, who habitually moans about putts that won't drop, canned a dozen good ones early Friday. Then, with hardly a comment, he disappeared while the rest of the field tried to catch up to him.

Three Are Close

No one succeeded in catching Sam during the long, hot afternoon, but Gene Littler, Dave Marr and Earl Stewart all came close. They tied for second at the 36-hole mark with 138s.

One stroke farther back was slender Paul Harney and at 140 were Gary Brewer, the first round leader; Dow Finsterwald, Frank Boynton, Wes Ellis and Buster Cupit, elder of a pair of sharpshooting brothers. The younger, Jacky Cupit, was among five tied at 141.

The putts that dropped were the high spots of Snead's second round, after an opening 70. He missed seven greens, but wound up six under par for the day and eight under for two rounds over the 7,055-yard, par 72 Upper Montclair course.

He one-putted eleven greens, chipped in once and three-putted only once for a total of 24 putts on 18 holes. And that came on a day when such ordinary steady putters as Littler and Arnold Palmer weren't able to sink any good ones on the eccentric greens.

"I didn't play so badly if I could have putted at all decent," said Palmer after posting a 74 for a 147 total that barely put him among the 96 pros who survived the first cut in the field. The cutoff score was 149.

Leafs' Hurler Gets Winning Hit

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Claude Raymond, the International Baseball League's top relief pitcher, has found that there is more than one way to win a ball game.

He took matters into his own hands Friday night for the Toronto Maple Leafs and banged out a single in the bottom of the ninth that drove in the deciding run in the Leafs's 4-3 victory over Columbus.

The victory moved Toronto to within a game of second place Buffalo, which beat Richmond, 7-3. League - leading Jacksonville beat Syracuse, 4-2, and Rochester edged Atlanta, 2-1, in 10 innings.

Raymond appeared in his 13th game Friday night, during which time he's give only six hits in 18 innings, all in relief, and two runs for a niggardly earned run average of 1.00. With the bases loaded, he hit the first pitch from reliever Ron Blackburn for a single, hanging the loss on Columbus starter Tom Parsons (0-3).

Pinch hitter, Jim Frey of Buffalo pulled off some heroics of his own with a bases loaded homer with two out in the last of the ninth. It came off loser Gary Blaylock. Bill Smith won his sixth.

Alfred Hanover Favored in Monticello Feature Tonight

MONTICELLO, N. Y., June 8—Liberty Stable's Alfred Hanover, favored by the rail, has been listed as the 3-1 morning line favorite for tonight's feature $3,000 Class AA/A Handicap Pace at Monticello Raceway.

Eight starters will go to the post.

Winner of five of eight races, Alfred, a four-year-old Tar Heel horse, will be seeking his second straight win at the Mighty M. Hungarian-born George Sziklai drove Alfred to a half length victory in 2:04 the second night of the meet. The favorite has two seconds to go with the five wins, and already has earned $9,400, more than his total all last year.

Irish Grattan, the "People's Choice" at Monticello, is the second early pick at 4-1. Terribly partial to MR's racing strip, Irish Grattan over the past three seasons has acquired a big fan following and always gets good play at the windows.

Third Last Week

Reunited with old trainer, Frank Popfinger, after a whirl on the Canadian circuit, the strong third to winning Adios Irish Hal stallion finished a strong third to winning Adios in last week's $5,000 Invitational. At the finish, Irish Grattan was just a length off the pace in 2:02.3. He has been assigned post six.

Scotch Abbe, from the No. 7 lane with Ned Galentine, and Bucky North, from No. 3 with Keith Waples, are other prime threats. Mrs. Bessie G. Clukey's Scotch Abbe is the biggest money winner in the field, having banked $20,974 in eight races. The five-year-old Gene Abbe stallion has met and beaten some of the best on the Metropolitan Wheel. He's won three races, best in 2:04.4, and taken two seconds and one third. Bucky North was third to Alfred Hanover in the five-year-old gelding's debut at Monticello. Bucky North has a 2:03.2 mark and has been in the money in eight of 10 races.

Hawks Rally For 4-2 Win

Although outhit, 5-3, the Hawks rallied for four unearned runs in the sixth inning to take a 4-2 verdict over the Owls in Jaycee Little League action last evening.

A two-run homer by Tom Gaffney in the second gave the Owls an early margin. In the meantime, fireballing righty Jordan Pauker was blanking the Hawks without a hit. Gaffney replaced Pauker on the mound in the fifth and gave up a double to Al Mitchel but it wasn't until the sixth that the winners were able to dent the scoring column.

YanksGet3rdStraightShutout; Wills' Speed Puts LA on Top

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

First it was Ralph Terry. Then it was Bill Stafford. Now it's Jim Coates. And in the last three games the New York Yankees' problem-plagued pitching staff has allowed a grand total of eight hits and no runs.

Coates added to the string Friday night, taking over when ace left-hander Whitey Ford was forced out with shoulder pains after the first inning and permitting only one hit the rest of the way as the Yankees blanked Baltimore 1-0.

It was the third consecutive shutout for the Yankee mound crew, weakened by the absence of relief specialist Luis Arroyo and Ford's inability to post a victory since May 9.

Ford gave up one hit, making it a two-hitter for the Ford-Coates combination and extending the scoreless innings streak to 28 1-3.

Lead At One Game

The latest victory kept the Yankees' American League lead at one game over the Minnesota Twins, who edged the Chicago White Sox 2-1. Third-place Cleveland belted Boston 15-9 with a six-run uprising in the 13th inning and remained two games off the pace.

The Los Angeles Angels got a two-hit pitching performance from newly-acquired Don Lee and defeated Kansas City 7-1, and Detroit and Washington split a doubleheader. The Tigers took the first 7-6 in 10 innings, then were shut out 1-0 on six hits by Dave Stenhouse.

Held to two hits by Chuck Estrada for seven innings, the Yankees cut loose against reliever Hoyt Wilhelm (2-4) when Estrada was forced to leave in the eighth with a pulled elbow muscle. Singles by Tom Tresh, Coates and Bobby Richardson accounted for the game's lone run.

Breaks Up Duel

Don Mincher broke up a pitching duel between the Twins' Jack Kralick (5-4) and John Buzhardt (6-5) of the White Sox when he lined a single in the last of the eighth, driving in Lenny Green with the deciding run.

Ed Bressoud's two-out homer for the Red Sox in the last of the ninth tied it, but the Indians wound up winning it big when Willie Kirkland's two-run homer started a six-run 13th inning out-burst that put it away. Kirkland drove in four runs and was joined by Woodie Held and Tito Francona in the homer department. Wynn Hawkins 1-0 won it with Hal Kolstad 0-1 the loser.

Lee 4-3, was making his first appearance for the Angels since they acquired him in a trade with Minnesota. Lee Thomas led an 11-hit Los Angeles attack with three hits, and three runs batted in, three on a seventh inning homer. Bob Rakow 4-6 was the loser.

The Tigers scored the tying run in the opener on Chuck Cottier's error, then won it in the 10th for Ron Nischwitz 2-0 on Rocky Colavito's sacrifice Fly. Carl Bouldin 0-1 was the loser. Stenhouse 4-1 became the first pitcher to shut out the Tigers this season when he turned in his six-hitter in the nightcap.

Dodgers Nip Houston, 4-3; Mets Split Pair

By JIM HACKLEMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Who says you can't steal first?

The Los Angeles Dodgers did it Friday night, snatching first place in the National League on the base stealing of mercurial Maury Wills. The swift shortstop ran the Dodgers to a 4-3 victory over the Houston Colts when he walked in the 13th inning, swiped two bases, then scored the winning run on a short sacrifice fly. The steals were the 31st and 32nd for Wills this season.

By winning, the Dodgers took a half-game edge over the San Francisco Giants, who were trounced by the St. Louis Cardinals 8-4. It was the third setback in a row for the Giants and the fourth straight victory for the Cards, on the rebound after a string of eight defeats.

Philadelphia beat Cincinnati's slumping Reds 10-3, and the New York Mets snapped their losing streak at 17, trimming the Chicago Cubs 4-3 in the opener of a doubleheader. The Cubs won 3-2 in the second game, called in the eight inning because of darkness. Rain washed out the Pittsburgh-Braves game at Milwaukee.

Steals Two Bases

Wills drew a walk off reliever Don McMahon leading off the Dodger 13th at Houston, stole second and third, then sprinted home on Willie Davis' fly to center. Larry Sherry held off the stubborn Colts in the last of the inning and was the winner with 4 1-3 scoreless innings of relief.

Ken Johnson went the first nine for Houston, giving up two runs in the second on Ron Fairly's triple, Wally Moon's double and John Roseboro's single, and a pinch hit homer by Frank Howard that tied it at 3-3 in the eighth. Bob Aspromonte singled home a Colt run in the fourth against Sandy Koufax, and they went ahead in the sixth with walks off Koufax and Ed Roebuck, a wild pitch and Merritt Ranew's two-run single.

Sherry bailed Ron Perranoski out of a bases-loaded jam in the ninth by striking out Carl Warwick, then put down the Colts the rest of the way.

Ken Boyer and Bill White led a 14-hit barrage and Lindy McDaniel turned in a perfect relief stint as the Cards rolled over the Giants, who find themselves out of first place for the first time since April 30. Boyer climaxed a decisive four-run uprising in the fifth against Juan Marichal by homering with one on and also had a single. White knocked in three runs with a homer and two singles.

Mays Hits 20th

McDaniel replaced winner Bob Gibson with two on and one out in the seventh and the score 6-4, retired Willie Mays and Willie McCovey, then put away six more Giants in a row. Mays socked his 20th homer with a man on in the third, and McCovey followed with his eighth homer.

Dennis Bennett's four-hit pitching and the Phils' five-run fifth inning pushed the Reds to their fifth straight loss. Bennett chipped in with a two-run single during the fifth as the Phils piled up a 7-0 lead against loser Johnny Klippstein and reliever Moe Drabowsky. Roy Sievers knocked in three Philadelphia runs with a double and single, while Tony Taylor and Dom Demeter added homers.

The Mets ended their long famine and made it 4-for-4 against the Cubs in the ninth inning of the opener at Chicago when Charlie Neal sent in the winning run with a bases-loaded sacrifice fly. Jay Hook was the winner and Glen Hobbie lost his seventh in eight decisions.

Ron Santo, who had a two-run homer in the first game, decided the second when he singled across two runs in the seventh, breaking a 1-1 tie. Met starter Bob Miller, now 0-4, held the Cubs to two hits until they mounted their rally in the seventh.

Moyer Favored To Beat Wright

NEW YORK (AP) — On the theory that Denny Moyer can beat his older brother, Phil, Detroit's Teddy Wright is the underdog in tonight's boxing match at Madison Square Garden.

Unclear?

Well, Wright beat Phil Moyer, May 26 on an unanimous decision. Phil, 23, was subbing for 22-year-old Denny who had an infected left ear. Now that Denny is well he is a 8-5 favorite to beat Wright. As no state permits brothers to fight brothers, the family decision would seem to go to Denny on cumulative scores.

Nevele Racing Stable Doing Well in Initial Full Season

ELLENVILLE, N. Y. — How closely related is the hotel and harness racing business.

In the case of the famed Nevele Country Club of Ellenville, N. Y., the bond is a tight one.

The fashionable resort center located in the heart of the Catskill Mountain summer vacationland has gone "horsey" in a big way. But only to the extent that involves the doings at the raceways.

The history of the Nevele and its relationship with horses is short but quite intetresting. The Nevele Acres Stable was started last summer. And probably its birth established a precedent for hotelmen invading the trotting business. Most certainly it is a "first" among the 300 or more hotel owners in this playground region.

Appropriately enough, the first horse ever to race under the Nevele banner broke in at Monticello Raceway, the booming young track that is short driving distance from the hotel. Duke of Alla was the first Nevele horse purchased. It wound up winning the Monticello Raceway trotting championship for three-year-olds. The horse's name was changed to Nevele Duke upon purchase.

Right afterwards, the Nevele made its first pacing transaction. It bought star three-year-old Meadow Vision and changed its name to Nevele Meadow. It went on to cop the pacing title for its age class.

The Nevele stable was really on its way now. However, the season was in its late stages and little more racing was done.

Bill Popfinger Gets Job

The stable went south for the winter. Ex-GI Bill Popfinger of Wexford, Pa., was handed the job of training the string exclusively. He had his work cut out because most of the horses were young and untested.

However, the hard work began paying off and quickly. The first stop on the spring circuit was Buffalo Raceway. Almost immediately, the Nevele became synonymous with winning stables. Popfinger, naturally, rose in stature in the driving race. When he left Buffalo for the opening of Monticello on May 31, the handsome blond reinsman was second in dashes won.

The Nevele stable is based at Monticello for the summer. The dozen or more horses are quartered in Barn "A" at the threshold of the barn area. The barn is decked out in green and white with an awning printed "Nevele Acres Stable."

It goes without saying that every horse in the barn has its name painted on the stall door for quick identification. And it also isn't any surprise for a first-time visitor to notice right away that every horse has the Nevele first name.

The whole thing is new to the Nevele owners. It's a big challenge. But they are optimistic. What more can be said?

Belmont Stakes Is Wide Open

NEW YORK (AP)—The horse who catches Jaipur will win the Belmont Stakes.

That was the general observation today as a field of eight 3-year-olds lined up for the 94th running of the great 1½ mile gallop, which has been producing champions since it was inaugurated at Old Jerome Park in the Bronx in 1867. Since 1905 it has been run at Belmont Park on Long Island.

Admiral's Voyage, owned by Fred W. Hooper and placed second in the Jersey Derby, Frank E. Power's Vimy Ridge, Louis Wolfson's David K., and Maurice Newton's Folk Dancer, a surprising last-minute entry, make up the field for the most open Belmont in memory.

Yesterday's Stars

Pitching—Jim Coates, Yankees, came on in relief in second inning when Whitey Ford had to leave with shoulder pains and allowed only a single the rest of the way to blank Baltimore 1-0 and register New York's third consecutive shutout.

Batting — Willie Kirkland, Indians, hitting .189 going into the game, drove in four runs, the last two with a homer in the 13th that started a six-run rally for a 15-9 victory over Boston.

Tie Silk Wins Debut At Monticello Track

MONTICELLO, NEW YORK—Tie Silk, making its first start of the season, won Friday's $3,000 Class AA/A Handicap Trot by a length in 2:04 3/5 at Monticello Raceway.

Third on the outside as the small five-horse field straightened out for home, Tie Silk overtook pace-setting Penny Shenandoah to win handily for Keith Waples and The Miron Brothers of Quebec.

The overwhelming favorite in the betting, Tie Silk paid $3.50, $3.10 and $3.10. Penny Shenandoah returned $4.90 and $4.10 and Ramire, another three quarters of a length behind, $3.40 for show.

Penny Shenandoah took the field to the quarter in 29.4 and carved out a 1:00 3/5 half. Still on top at the three quarters in 1:32 2/5, Penny Shenandoah began to feel the effects of the blistering pace.

Mr. Midnight was fourth and Rodman last in the mile dash. Three scratches cut the field to five from the original eight.

Snead's 136 Leads Golf Tourney

CLIFTON, N.J. (AP) — For once, Sam Snead wasn't complaining about his putting — he couldn't very well.

But he must have thrown a few apprehensive glances over his shoulder long after leaving the Upper Montclair Country Club, where he posted a second round 66 and a 136 total for the 36-hole lead in the $100,000 Classic Golf Tournament.

Snead, who habitually moans about putts that won't drop, canned a dozen good ones early Friday. Then, with hardly a comment, he disappeared while the rest of the field tried to catch up to him.

Three Are Close

No one succeeded in catching Sam during the long, hot afternoon, but Gene Littler, Dave Marr and Earl Stewart all came close. They tied for second at the 36-hole mark with 138s.

One stroke farther back was slender Paul Harney and at 140 were Gary Brewer, the first round leader; Dow Finsterwald, Frank Boynton, Wes Ellis and Buster Cupit, elder of a pair of sharpshooting brothers. The younger, Jacky Cupit, was among five tied at 141.

The putts that dropped were the high spots of Snead's second round, after an opening 70. He missed seven greens, but wound up six under par for the day and eight under for two rounds over the 7,055-yard, par 72 Upper Montclair course.

He one-putted eleven greens, chipped in once and three-putted only once for a total of 24 putts on 18 holes. And that came on a day when such ordinary steady putters as Littler and Arnold Palmer weren't able to sink any good ones on the eccentric greens.

"I didn't play so badly if I could have putted at all decent," said Palmer after posting a 74 for a 147 total that barely put him among the 96 pros who survived the first cut in the field. The cutoff score was 149.

Leafs' Hurler Gets Winning Hit

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Claude Raymond, the International Baseball League's top relief pitcher, has found that there is more than one way to win a ball game.

He took matters into his own hands Friday night for the Toronto Maple Leafs and banged out a single in the bottom of the ninth that drove in the deciding run in the Leafs's 4-3 victory over Columbus.

The victory moved Toronto to within a game of second place Buffalo, which beat Richmond, 7-3. League - leading Jacksonville beat Syracuse, 4-2, and Rochester edged Atlanta, 2-1, in 10 innings.

Raymond appeared in his 13th game Friday night, during which time he's give only six hits in 18 innings, all in relief, and two runs for a niggardly earned run average of 1.00. With the bases loaded, he hit the first pitch from reliever Ron Blackburn for a single, hanging the loss on Columbus starter Tom Parsons (0-3).

Pinch hitter, Jim Frey of Buffalo pulled off some heroics of his own with a bases loaded homer with two out in the last of the ninth. It came off loser Gary Blaylock. Bill Smith won his sixth.

Alfred Hanover Favored in Monticello Feature Tonight

MONTICELLO, N. Y., June 8—Liberty Stable's Alfred Hanover, favored by the rail, has been listed as the 3-1 morning line favorite for tonight's feature $3,000 Class AA/A Handicap Pace at Monticello Raceway.

Eight starters will go to the post.

Winner of five of eight races, Alfred, a four-year-old Tar Heel horse, will be seeking his second straight win at the Mighty M. Hungarian-born George Sziklai drove Alfred to a half length victory in 2:04 the second night of the meet. The favorite has two seconds to go with the five wins, and already has earned $9,400, more than his total all last year.

Irish Grattan, the "People's Choice" at Monticello, is the second early pick at 4-1. Terribly partial to MR's racing strip, Irish Grattan over the past three seasons has acquired a big fan following and always gets good play at the windows.

Third Last Week

Reunited with old trainer, Frank Popfinger, after a whirl on the Canadian circuit, the strong third to winning Adios Irish Hal stallion finished a strong third to winning Adios in last week's $5,000 Invitational. At the finish, Irish Grattan was just a length off the pace in 2:02.3. He has been assigned post six.

Scotch Abbe, from the No. 7 lane with Ned Galentine, and Bucky North, from No. 3 with Keith Waples, are other prime threats. Mrs. Bessie G. Clukey's Scotch Abbe is the biggest money winner in the field, having banked $20,974 in eight races. The five-year-old Gene Abbe stallion has met and beaten some of the best on the Metropolitan Wheel. He's won three races, best in 2:04.4, and taken two seconds and one third. Bucky North was third to Alfred Hanover in the five-year-old gelding's debut at Monticello. Bucky North has a 2:03.2 mark and has been in the money in eight of 10 races.

Hawks Rally For 4-2 Win

Although outhit, 5-3, the Hawks rallied for four unearned runs in the sixth inning to take a 4-2 verdict over the Owls in Jaycee Little League action last evening.

A two-run homer by Tom Gaffney in the second gave the Owls an early margin. In the meantime, fireballing righty Jordan Pauker was blanking the Hawks without a hit. Gaffney replaced Pauker on the mound in the fifth and gave up a double to Al Mitchel but it wasn't until the sixth that the winners were able to dent the scoring column.

West 'Outthinks' South's Tactics

BY OSWALD JACOBY

According to Silodor and Tierney, the reason East opened with five diamonds instead of a more conservative bid was that he really wanted to shut out his opponents.

Opening lead—♦ 3

Needless to say, South's hand was such that even a six diamond opening would not have stopped him from bidding and while they did not discuss his bid it should be obvious that he would have taken the push to six hearts if necessary.

South won the opening lead and studied the hand before making his next play. As you can see, his problem was to find some way to get to dummy's ace-king of clubs in order to discard two of his spades. Of course, he could have relied on a 3-3 spade break, but even without adverse bidding the odds are against that break and the five diamond opening had increased them.

Accordingly, South decided to try to make dummy's ten of trumps an entry and he led the six of hearts at trick two.

One trouble with taking a lot of time is that it gives the other side a chance to study on your time so West had figured out exactly what South was up to and he played the five of hearts without batting an eyelash.

At this point South could have played dummy's ten of hearts and made an overtrick, but it just never occurred to South that West would have refused to play the jack of hearts. South played low from dummy and eventually had to lose three spade tricks.

Workers Continue Lead Co. Strike

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—A 14-day strike by 3,700 employes in four plants of the Doehler-Jarvis Division of the National Lead Co. continued today with no end in sight.

Company officials said Friday meetings were scheduled with the striking United Auto Workers Union.

Employes walked out May 26 after rejecting, by a vote of 2,383 to 542, a company proposal for a 14-cent hourly pay cut. Employes currently earn an average hourly wage of $3.13, with an additional 87 cents in fringe benefits.

Plants in Toledo, Grand Rapids, Mich.; Batavia, N.Y., and Pottstown, Pa., are affected by the strike.

West 'Outthinks' South's Tactics

BY OSWALD JACOBY

According to Silodor and Tierney, the reason East opened with five diamonds instead of a more conservative bid was that he really wanted to shut out his opponents.

Needless to say, South's hand was such that even a six diamond opening would not have stopped him from bidding and while they did not discuss his bid it should be obvious that he would have taken the push to six hearts if necessary.

South won the opening lead and studied the hand before making his next play. As you can see, his problem was to find some way to get to dummy's ace-king of clubs in order to discard two of his spades. Of course, he could have relied on a 3-3 spade break, but even without adverse bidding the odds are against that break and the five diamond opening had increased them.

Accordingly, South decided to try to make dummy's ten of trumps an entry and he led the six of hearts at trick two.

One trouble with taking a lot of time is that it gives the other side a chance to study on your time so West had figured out exactly what South was up to and he played the five of hearts without batting an eyelash.

At this point South could have played dummy's ten of hearts and made an overtrick, but it just never occurred to South that West would have refused to play the jack of hearts. South played low from dummy and eventually had to lose three spade tricks.

Workers Continue Lead Co. Strike

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—A 14-day strike by 3,700 employes in four plants of the Doehler-Jarvis Division of the National Lead Co. continued today with no end in sight.

Company officials said Friday meetings were scheduled with the striking United Auto Workers Union.

Employes walked out May 26 after rejecting, by a vote of 2,383 to 542, a company proposal for a 14-cent hourly pay cut. Employes currently earn an average hourly wage of $3.13, with an additional 87 cents in fringe benefits.

The strike started after negotiations between the company and the union broke down in New York. The old contract expired April 1.

Plants in Toledo, Grand Rapids, Mich.; Batavia, N.Y., and Pottstown, Pa., are affected by the strike.

Detectives Probe Break, Masquerade

Kingston detectives are investigating a reported break into the Elm Diner, corner of Wall Street and Greenkill Avenue Friday night.

City detectives say that someone broke into the diner last night, removed a key to the cigarette machine from the cash register, opened the machine and removed some change and 75 packs of cigarettes. According to police, the amount of change taken had to be a small amount since the machine was refilled yesterday.

The key to another machine in the diner was reportedly taken, but the second machine was not broken into, according to city detectives.

Learned to Read at 2

Boy, 13, Completes Frosh Year at UCLA

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Lance Kerr could be almost any age. But he happens to be 13.

He finished his freshman year Friday at the University of California at Los Angeles. And, he admits, it went pretty well.

"It won't be an A average," he said, reviewing the grades he expects in anthropology, physics, math and Russian. "I believe I can depend on at least a strong B."

Lance is less than 5 feet tall, weighs 85 pounds, and speaks with the soft tenor voice of a youngster in his early teens.

But his vocabulary is vast, his pronunciation precise. He is quiet, poised and mannerly. He speaks like a grownup—one disarmingly posed as a slender boy.

Lance learned to read at age 2. How he learned was a mystery to his parents, Sylvia and Leon Kerr. "No one ever taught him," said Mrs. Kerr.

When he was just barely 4 he went to the library for a library card. The librarian made him prove he could read. He did, easily. By the time he started kindergarten, a few months later, he was reading 10 books a week.

He rushed through grade school, junior high and high school, mostly in private schools, and entered UCLA last September at 12.

"I intend to be a physicist," he said. "Everyone here (at UCLA) seems to assume I'll get a Ph.D. here. But that's too far in the future to tell about right now."

Where did Lance come by his genius?

"We don't know," said his mother. Both parents went to college, but neither showed signs of being an exceptional student. His father is a salesman, his mother an editorial employe of an electronics firm.

Sale Is Ordered Of Estes' Paper, Implement Firm

EL PASO, Tex. (AP)—Federal Dist. Judge R. E. Thomason has ordered the sale of a daily newspaper and a farm implement company owned by Billie Sol Estes.

The two properties are the first of the Peos, Tex., financier's many enterprises to be put up for sale since he placed his fertilizer, cotton and grain storage empire in voluntary receivership on April 7.

Judge Thomason said Friday the Pecos Daily News, founded by Estes in 1961, will be sold at public auction Monday from the doorway of the newspaper's one-story, white stucco building in Pecos. Harry Moore, court-appointed receiver for Estes, will be the auctioneer.

Moore also will offer for sale Monday the Estes-owned Fort Stockton, Tex., Implement Co., a distributor of farm machinery. Advertisements asking for bids on the company had been published earlier and the company will not be placed on the auction block.

Meanwhile, a grand jury at Franklin, Tex., has subpoenaed Estes as a witness for next Wednesday. The grand jury is investigating the death of Henry H. Marshall, a federal farm official who had been investigating Estes' dealings in cotton acreage allotments.

Marshall was chief of production adjustment for the State Agriculture Stabilization and Conservation Office. As such he was in charge of the cotton allotment program in Texas.

He was found dead June 3, 1961, on his farm near Franklin. He had been shot five times with a bolt-action .22 caliber rifle, had a bruise on his forehead and had inhaled a near-fatal dose of carbon monoxide.

His death was ruled a suicide. A special grand jury was convened at Franklin three weeks ago to re-examine the case after it was revealed that at the time of his death Marshall was looking into Estes' cotton allotments.

Cold War Being Lost: Graham

CHICAGO (AP)—The free world is losing the cold war, evangelist Billy Graham told an overflow crowd of about 45,000 persons Friday night at the 10th rally of his Chicago Crusade for Christ.

Speaking about communism as one of the giants faced by youth today just as David faced Goliath long ago, Graham said: "There are some people who tell you we are winning the cold war. Well, don't you believe it.

"During my travels all over the world, I have seen communism infiltrating on every continent."

Capacity Crowd Attends

Despite heavy rain and storm-filled skies, Graham drew a capacity crowd. Officials said several thousand persons were turned away. Many in the audience were under 25 years of age, in keeping with a youth night theme.

Graham told his youthful listeners that: "If we don't solve the problems of our generation, we will be handing you the most terrible problems faced by man. If ever we needed the love of God we need it now."

"David threw the stone and the giant was slain," he said. "You cannot possibly face the giants of life without the help of Jesus Christ."

He identified some Goliaths of today as communism, the hydogen bomb, racial tensions, economic pressures and moral deterioration.

"The church faces giants such as indifference, unbelief, prayerlessness, hypocrisy, and lack of courage," he continued.

Youth Facing Giants

"Youth faces such individual giants as bad temper, jealousy, carelessness, conformity, disobedience, laziness, selfishness, doubt, sex, vocation, marriage, and temptation."

"All of these giants will go out and face you this summer," he said. "How will you control them? Will you slay them or will they slay you?"

The evangelist said David slew Goliath because David committed himself to God. David, he said, "spent hours meditating on God. He wasn't rock and rolling all the time. He wasn't at the corner drug store all the time. But he wasn't a sissy either although some of the fellows might have thought him queer or strange.

"David was a man of great moral strength, and great courage," Graham said.

At the end of Graham's sermon, an estimated 1,300 persons came forward to make what crusade officials term "a decision for Christ."

Driver Escapes Injury as Auto Lands in Ditch

A 30-year-old West Hurley motorist escaped injury shortly after 1 a. m. today when his car rolled over in a ditch and landed in a field following a collision on Route 375 at West Hurley, according to the sheriff's office.

Deputy Sheriffs Thomas Mayone and Ernest Ahlberg investigated the collision which involved cars driven by Thomas James Benson, 30, of Tanglewood Road, West Hurley and James W. Shelton, 23, of 9 Schoonmaker Lane, Woodstock.

Deputies said Benson was driving a 1962 vehicle south on Route 375 and attempting a right turn, when the car and a 1958 vehicle driven by Shelten collided. Benson's car left the highway, overturned in a ditch and came to a stop on its wheels in a field about 100 feet off the highway.

Hits Clark's Spending

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Rep. James E. Van Zandt, Republican candidate for the U.S. Senate, has criticized the Democratic incumbent, Joseph S. Clark, for "his extravagant spending ideas and his left wing tendencies."

Van Zandt said Friday that his campaign to unseat Clark in November is "a basic contest between our American free enterprise system and socialism."

He spoke at a GOP finance committee rally that launched a campaign to raise about $3 million for the statewide Republican campaign.

Castroists Work On Revolutions In So. America

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent

MEXICO CITY (AP)—What are the chances for a new Castro-style revolution in Latin America?

Communists and their Castroist allies work throughtout the hemisphere to bring about a new explosion. They operate on the theory that one more such upheavel would wreck U.S. hopes for the United States.

Recently, the left-extremists seemed to have chosen two prime targets for their efforts: Venezuela and Ecuador. In Venezuela they met two successive defeats in attempted military uprisings.

That could make little Ecuador, a land of perplexing paradoxes, a promising theater for the Communists. A country of towering mountains and fertile soil, it is rich in possibilities but poor in social and economic development.

Ecuador's president, 42-year-old Carlos Julio Arosemena, will visit the United States in July for talks with President Kennedy. Arosemena has indicated he is no admirer of the United States—that, in fact, he has an anti-Yankee complex.

Ecuador's current situation had its beginnings in 1961. Arosemena, then vice president, led a delegation on a junket to the Soviet Union and satellite countries and was lionized there. To some in Quito it seemed an odd coincidence that President Jose Velasco Ibarra came violently under attack shortly after Arosemena returned from Moscow.

The spark was a new tax decree. Students demonstrated. Velasco tried to put down the rioting, but people were killed and the pressure grew. The worried army pushed Velasco aside and tried to install a provisional president pending new elections, but rioting broke out once again. This time it was with demands for Arosemena's constitutional accession to the presidency. The army bowed.

Later, flushed with victory, the Communists began demanding an armed student militia. That may have scared Arosemena.

In April, the army command gave Arosemena an ultimatum to break with Cuba and the Soviet bloc and to kick Communists out of high places.

Arosemena bowed to the rupture in relations, but the Communists and extremists remained in influential positions—in the university, in th government-run "House of Culture," in information and communications spots, in the student federation.

ASNE Will Shift Offices to N. Y.

NEW YORK (AP)—The American Society of Newspaper Editors plans to move its offices from Wilmington, Del., to New York as soon as a new executive secretary has been selected.

The society announced Friday that the new offices will be located at 750 Third Ave., in the same building and on the same floor as the American Newspaper Publishers Association.

The editors' group will pay its own office rental and for all its own supplies, but will be allowed use of the extensive production and mailing equipment of the publishers' group, the announcement said.

The plans were approved by the board of directors of the editors association at its annual meeting in New Orleans.

The announcement said Mr. and Mrs. Frederic Pitts, who have been handling the affairs of the society since 1933, will retire in 1963 after helping the new executive secretary learn the organizational procedures.

Body of Dutchess Man Taken From Hudson on Friday

The body a of 74-year-old Poughkeepsie man was recovered from the Hudson River about one and one-half miles south of the Mid-Hudson Bridge shortly after 3 p. m. Friday.

State Police Investigator Roger Gardner said the body of Ralph J. Merritt, of 70 South Clinton Street, Poughkeepsie, was seen floating off the west shore of the river by William Windburn, Lawrenceville Street, Kingston, a conductor on the West Shore division of the New York Central railroad.

Troopers said Windburn pulled the body to shore and notified authorities.

Troopers Harry Foster and J. F. Czaplicki of Highland investigated.

Ulster County Coroner Francis J. McCardle said Merritt died of asphyxia due to drowning. The coroner said Merritt either "jumped or fell" into the river. The body had been in the water about a day.

Investigator Gardner said Merritt was a convalescent patient from the Hudson River State Hospital, Poughkeepsie. The investigation is being continued, troopers said.

Tenative Pact Is Reached for W-U

NEW YORK (AP)—Negotiators have tentatively agreed to a two-year contract covering 4,000 Western Union employes in the metropolitan area.

The company said its settlement Friday with the American Communications Association, an independent union, conformed to President Kennedy's formula for non-inflationary wage agreement.

The settlement calls for wage increases of from $1.60 to $10 a week and improvements in the company-paid hospitalization program and other fringe benefits, Western Union said.

Employes averaged $104.51 a week under the two-year pact that expired May 31, the company said. Fringe benefits under the old contract cost the company $25 a week per employe, a company spokesman said.

The employes were scheduled to vote on the contract shortly.

A two-year contract providing the same terms was drawn up in Washington last week to cover 24,000 Western Union employes elsewhere in the country, represented by the Commercial Telegraphers Union (AFL-CIO).

Western Union said the metropolitan area settlement, which included employes in New York City, Long Island and eastern New Jersey, would increase its labor costs over the two years by six per cent.

Tampering Reported

It was reported to City Police this morning that someone had tampered with three gasoline pumps at Skip and Mac's Gulf Service Center, corner of Wurts and Abeel Streets, sometime Friday night. The station is owned by Cleland MacDonald, 629 Delaware Avenue.

Business Week in Review

By JACK LEFLER
AP Business News Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — President Kennedy promised during the week to recommend an income tax cut and pressed Congress for action to keep the economy from faltering.

He conceded that his hope of attaining a 1962 economic output of $570 billion probably will not be realized, and put some of the blame on the stock market decline.

The across-the-board tax reduction for individuals and corporations would, if enacted by Congress, be effective next Jan. 1.

First word of the administration's intention came Monday night from Secretary of the Treasury Douglas Dillon in a New York speech. He gave no details.

Reductions Not Specified

Kennedy said at his news conference Thursday that the provisions of the tax bill won't be completed until this summer. He added that the recommendation will be sent to Congress this year.

Kennedy declined to say how big the reductions might be. But he did say that the cuts would not be completely offset by other provisions of the measure which presumably would be designed to recover some of the lost revenue.

Urging Congress to act quickly on economic measures he has urged, the President said: "There is no need for us to stand helplessly by and watch our economy run out of gas."

Some of these measures, he said, would:

Give business a $1.3-billion incentive to acquire new plant and equipment; standby authority to cut income taxes by 5 per cent if a recession threatens; repeal the 10 per cent transportation tax on train and bus travel.

He contended that the economy has "very good vitality" and with a shove from his recommended legislation could come near the $570-billion gross national product level.

Currently the nation's output is running between $550 and $560 billion a year.

Would Spell Out Details

Kennedy attributed the stock market decline mainly to an overpriced situation, saying that financial experts had felt for some time that it would not hold up after realization of the situation.

Dr. Marcus Nadler, consulting economist for the Manufacturers Hanover Trust Co. of New York, commenting on Dillon's earlier speech, had said: "Details of the tax-cut plan should be spelled out soon. I believe a reduction would be a good step in that it would automatically increase disposable income."

Some brokers felt the Dillon announcement Monday night played a part in arresting a stock market fall that had been deep that day. Others discounted it, saying that prices were ready for a rebound from the low levels to which they had fallen.

The President's statement failed to stir the market on Friday. Wall Street analysts indicated that details would have to be spelled out before investors translated their opinions into action which would affect the market.

Volume of trading, which at 40,563,230 shares the previous hectic week, fell to 20,041,630. The level a year ago was 19,721,550. Bond sales for the week totaled $41,778,000 par value, compared with $55,510,000 the previous week and $29,932,000 for the comparable week last year.

Auto Industry Zooms

Some brokers saw in activity on the stock market a hope for market stabilization which may be followed by an advance.

Others, in a pessimistic attitude, warned that this wasn't necessarily the end of the sharp decline which began in mid-March.

The automobile industry zoomed along at the head of the industrial parade. In May it sold 565,837 U.S.-made passenger cars, the highest since September of record 1955.

For General Motors, with sales of 381,644 units, it was the biggest month in its history.

Industry sales since Jan. 1 through May 30 totaled 2,837,000.

Production during the week was estimated at 151,434 against 121,321 last week and 127,383 a year ago.

On the other hand, steel production fell during the week for the ninth straight week. Output of 1,586,000 tons was 3.6 per cent below the previous week.

With the industry's production down to about 55 per cent of capacity from 80 per cent at the end of March, producers ordered layoffs and short work weeks.

The railroads and 11 unions representing 450,000 nonoperating workers agreement is in line with recommendations of a presidential fact-finding board. It provides a wage increase of 10.28 cents an hour.

In another railroad development, the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen announced they would "spend whatever it takes" to oppose the proposed merger of the New York Central and Pennsylvania Railroads."

Two Are Injured In 209 Accident, Driver Is Charged

Two men were injured and a motorist was charged with passing a stopped school bus Friday afternoon, as the result of a traffic accident on Route 209, Town of Wawarsing, according to Ellenville State Trooper Joseph Houston.

Troopers said Ishii Toru, 75, of Kerhonkson, was driving south on Route 209 a half mile from Jenny Brook Road, when the driver attempted to stop for a stopped shool bus. The car continued on and struck a stopped State Highway Department truck operatted by Richard Gadkins, 59, of New Paltz.

Troopers reported Toru suffered injuries of the left knee. A passenger in the car, Zeichi Nobunoto, 65, of New York City, received a laceration of the face and possible chest injuries, Trooper Huston reported.

Toru was issued a summons charging him with passing a stopped school bus.

Detectives Probe Break, Masquerade

Kingston detectives are investigating a reported break into the Elm Diner, corner of Wall Street and Greenkill Avenue Friday night.

City detectives say that someone broke into the diner last night, removed a key to the cigarette machine from the cash register, opened the machine and removed some change and 75 packs of cigarettes. According to police, the amount of change taken had to be a small amount since the machine was refilled yesterday.

The key to another machine in the diner was reportedly taken, but the second machine was not broken into, according to city detectives.

Kingston detectives are also investigating a possible break into the Hurley Haven Tavern and the impersonation of a police officer Friday night.

Cold War Being Lost: Graham

CHICAGO (AP)—The free world is losing the cold war, evangelist Billy Graham told an overflow crowd of about 45,000 persons Friday night at the 10th rally of his Chicago Crusade for Christ.

Speaking about communism as one of the giants faced by youth today just as David faced Goliath long ago, Graham said: "There are some people who tell you we are winning the cold war. Well, don't you believe it.

"During my travels all over the world, I have seen communism infiltrating on every continent."

Capacity Crowd Attends

Despite heavy rain and storm-filled skies, Graham drew a capacity crowd. Officials said several thousand persons were turned away. Many in the audience were under 25 years of age, in keeping with a youth night theme.

Graham told his youthful listeners that: "If we don't solve the problems of our generation, we will be handing you the most terrible problems faced by man. If ever we needed the love of God we need it now."

"David threw the stone and the giant was slain," he said. "You cannot possibly face the giants of life without the help of Jesus Christ."

He identified some Goliaths of today as communism, the hydogen bomb, racial tensions, economic pressures and moral deterioration.

"The church faces giants such as indifference, unbelief, prayerlessness, hypocrisy, and lack of courage," he continued.

Youth Facing Giants

"Youth faces such individual giants as bad temper, jealousy, carelessness, conformity, disobedience, laziness, selfishness, doubt, sex, vocation, marriage, and temptation."

"All of these giants will go out and face you this summer," he said. "How will you control them? Will you slay them or will they slay you?"

The evangelist said David slew Goliath because David committed himself to God. David, he said, "spent hours meditating on God. He wasn't rock and rolling all the time. He wasn't at the corner drug store all the time. But he wasn't a sissy either although some of the fellows might have thought him queer or strange.

"David was a man of great moral strength, and great courage," Graham said.

At the end of Graham's sermon, an estimated 1,300 persons came forward to make what crusade officials term "a decision for Christ."

Driver Escapes Injury as Auto Lands in Ditch

A 30-year-old West Hurley motorist escaped injury shortly after 1 a. m. today when his car rolled over in a ditch and landed in a field following a collision on Route 375 at West Hurley, according to the sheriff's office.

Deputy Sheriffs Thomas Mayone and Ernest Ahlberg investigated the collision which involved cars driven by Thomas James Benson, 30, of Tanglewood Road, West Hurley and James W. Shelton, 23, of 9 Schoonmaker Lane, Woodstock.

Deputies said Benson was driving a 1962 vehicle south on Route 375 and attempting a right turn, when the car and a 1958 vehicle driven by Shelten collided. Benson's car left the highway, overturned in a ditch and came to a stop on its wheels in a field about 100 feet off the highway.

Hits Clark's Spending

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Rep. James E. Van Zandt, Republican candidate for the U.S. Senate, has criticized the Democratic incumbent, Joseph S. Clark, for "his extravagant spending ideas and his left wing tendencies."

Van Zandt said Friday that his campaign to unseat Clark in November is "a basic contest between our American free enterprise system and socialism."

He spoke at a GOP finance committee rally that launched a campaign to raise about $3 million for the statewide Republican campaign.

Castroists Work On Revolutions In So. America

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent

MEXICO CITY (AP)—What are the chances for a new Castro-style revolution in Latin America?

Communists and their Castroist allies work throughtout the hemisphere to bring about a new explosion. They operate on the theory that one more such upheavel would wreck U.S. hopes for the United States.

Recently, the left-extremists seemed to have chosen two prime targets for their efforts: Venezuela and Ecuador. In Venezuela they met two successive defeats in attempted military uprisings.

That could make little Ecuador, a land of perplexing paradoxes, a promising theater for the Communists. A country of towering mountains and fertile soil, it is rich in possibilities but poor in social and economic development.

Ecuador's president, 42-year-old Carlos Julio Arosemena, will visit the United States in July for talks with President Kennedy. Arosemena has indicated he is no admirer of the United States—that, in fact, he has an anti-Yankee complex.

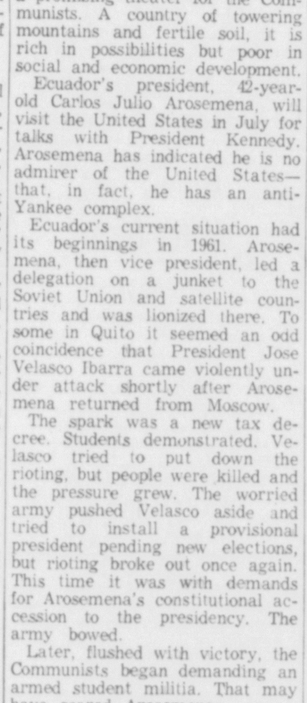

Ecuador's current situation had its beginnings in 1961. Arosemena, then vice president, led a delegation on a junket to the Soviet Union and satellite countries and was lionized there. To some in Quito it seemed an odd coincidence that President Jose Velasco Ibarra came violently under attack shortly after Arosemena returned from Moscow.

The spark was a new tax decree. Students demonstrated. Velasco tried to put down the rioting, but people were killed and the pressure grew. The worried army pushed Velasco aside and tried to install a provisional president pending new elections, but rioting broke out once again. This time it was with demands for Arosemena's constitutional accession to the presidency. The army bowed.

Later, flushed with victory, the Communists began demanding an armed student militia. That may have scared Arosemena.

In April, the army command gave Arosemena an ultimatum to break with Cuba and the Soviet bloc and to kick Communists out of high places.

Arosemena bowed to the rupture in relations, but the Communists and extremists remained in influential positions—in the university, in th government-run "House of Culture," in information and communications spots, in the student federation.

ASNE Will Shift Offices to N. Y.

NEW YORK (AP)—The American Society of Newspaper Editors plans to move its offices from Wilmington, Del., to New York as soon as a new executive secretary has been selected.

The society announced Friday that the new offices will be located at 750 Third Ave., in the same building and on the same floor as the American Newspaper Publishers Association.

The editors' group will pay its own office rental and for all its own supplies, but will be allowed use of the extensive production and mailing equipment of the publishers' group, the announcement said.

The plans were approved by the board of directors of the editors association at its annual meeting in New Orleans.

The announcement said Mr. and Mrs. Frederic Pitts, who have been handling the affairs of the society since 1933, will retire in 1963 after helping the new executive secretary learn the organizational procedures.

Body of Dutchess Man Taken From Hudson on Friday

The body a of 74-year-old Poughkeepsie man was recovered from the Hudson River about one and one-half miles south of the Mid-Hudson Bridge shortly after 3 p. m. Friday.

State Police Investigator Roger Gardner said the body of Ralph J. Merritt, of 70 South Clinton Street, Poughkeepsie, was seen floating off the west shore of the river by William Windburn, Lawrenceville Street, Kingston, a conductor on the West Shore division of the New York Central railroad.

Troopers said Windburn pulled the body to shore and notified authorities.

Troopers Harry Foster and J. F. Czaplicki of Highland investigated.

Ulster County Coroner Francis J. McCardle said Merritt died of asphyxia due to drowning. The coroner said Merritt either "jumped or fell" into the river. The body had been in the water about a day.

Investigator Gardner said Merritt was a convalescent patient from the Hudson River State Hospital, Poughkeepsie. The investigation is being continued, troopers said.

Tenative Pact Is Reached for W-U

NEW YORK (AP)—Negotiators have tentatively agreed to a two-year contract covering 4,000 Western Union employes in the metropolitan area.

The company said its settlement Friday with the American Communications Association, an independent union, conformed to President Kennedy's formula for non-inflationary wage agreement.

The settlement calls for wage increases of from $1.60 to $10 a week and improvements in the company-paid hospitalization program and other fringe benefits, Western Union said.

Employes averaged $104.51 a week under the two-year pact that expired May 31, the company said. Fringe benefits under the old contract cost the company $25 a week per employe, a company spokesman said.

The employes were scheduled to vote on the contract shortly.

A two-year contract providing the same terms was drawn up in Washington last week to cover 24,000 Western Union employes elsewhere in the country, represented by the Commercial Telegraphers Union (AFL-CIO).

Western Union said the metropolitan area settlement, which included employes in New York City, Long Island and eastern New Jersey, would increase its labor costs over the two years by six per cent.

Tampering Reported

It was reported to City Police this morning that someone had tampered with three gasoline pumps at Skip and Mac's Gulf Service Center, corner of Wurts and Abeel Streets, sometime Friday night. The station is owned by Cleland MacDonald, 629 Delaware Avenue.

Business Week in Review

By JACK LEFLER
AP Business News Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — President Kennedy promised during the week to recommend an income tax cut and pressed Congress for action to keep the economy from faltering.

He conceded that his hope of attaining a 1962 economic output of $570 billion probably will not be realized, and put some of the blame on the stock market decline.

The across-the-board tax reduction for individuals and corporations would, if enacted by Congress, be effective next Jan. 1.

First word of the administration's intention came Monday night from Secretary of the Treasury Douglas Dillon in a New York speech. He gave no details.

Reductions Not Specified

Kennedy said at his news conference Thursday that the provisions of the tax bill won't be completed until this summer. He added that the recommendation will be sent to Congress this year.

Kennedy declined to say how big the reductions might be. But he did say that the cuts would not be completely offset by other provisions of the measure which presumably would be designed to recover some of the lost revenue.

Urging Congress to act quickly on economic measures he has urged, the President said: "There is no need for us to stand helplessly by and watch our economy run out of gas."

Some of these measures, he said, would:

Give business a $1.3-billion incentive to acquire new plant and equipment; standby authority to cut income taxes by 5 per cent if a recession threatens; repeal the 10 per cent transportation tax on train and bus travel.

He contended that the economy has "very good vitality" and with a shove from his recommended legislation could come near the $570-billion gross national product level.

Currently the nation's output is running between $550 and $560 billion a year.

Would Spell Out Details

Kennedy attributed the stock market decline mainly to an overpriced situation, saying that financial experts had felt for some time that it would not hold up after realization of the situation.

Dr. Marcus Nadler, consulting economist for the Manufacturers Hanover Trust Co. of New York, commenting on Dillon's earlier speech, had said: "Details of the tax-cut plan should be spelled out soon. I believe a reduction would be a good step in that it would automatically increase disposable income."

Some brokers felt the Dillon announcement Monday night played a part in arresting a stock market fall that had been deep that day. Others discounted it, saying that prices were ready for a rebound from the low levels to which they had fallen.

The President's statement failed to stir the market on Friday. Wall Street analysts indicated that details would have to be spelled out before investors translated their opinions into action which would affect the market.

Volume of trading, which at 40,563,230 shares the previous hectic week, fell to 20,041,630. The level a year ago was 19,721,350. Bond sales for the week totaled $41,778,000 par value, compared with $55,510,000 the previous week and $29,932,000 for the comparable week last year.

Auto Industry Zooms

Some brokers saw in activity on the stock market a hope for market stabilization which may be followed by an advance.

Others, in a pessimistic attitude, warned that this wasn't necessarily the end of the sharp decline which began in mid-March.

The automobile industry zoomed along at the head of the industrial parade. In May it sold 565,837 U.S.-made passenger cars, the highest since September of record 1955.

For General Motors, with sales of 381,644 units, it was the biggest month in its history.

Industry sales since Jan. 1 through May 30 totaled 2,837,000.

Production during the week was estimated at 151,434 against 121,321 last week and 127,383 a year ago.

On the other hand, steel production fell during the week for the ninth straight week. Output of 1,586,000 tons was 3.6 per cent below the previous week.

With the industry's production down to about 55 per cent of capacity from 80 per cent at the end of March, producers ordered layoffs and short work weeks.

The railroads and 11 unions representing 450,000 nonoperating workers agreement is in line with recommendations of a presidential fact-finding board. It provides a wage increase of 19.28 cents an hour.

In another railroad development, the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen announced they would "spend whatever it takes" to oppose the proposed merger of the New York Central and Pennsylvania Railroads."

Two Are Injured In 209 Accident, Driver Is Charged

Two men were injured and a motorist was charged with passing a stopped school bus Friday afternoon, as the result of a traffic accident on Route 209, Town of Wawarsing, according to Ellenville State Trooper Joseph Houston.

Troopers said Ishii Toru, 75, of Kerhonkson, was driving south on Route 209 a half mile from Jenny Brook Road, when the driver attempted to stop for a stopped shool bus. The car continued on and struck a stopped State Highway Department truck operatted by Richard Gadkins, 59, of New Paltz.

Troopers reported Toru suffered injuries of the left knee. A passenger in the car, Zeichi Nobunoto, 65, of New York City, received a laceration of the face and possible chest injuries, Trooper Huston reported.

Toru was issued a summons charging him with passing a stopped school bus.
